TRAIN KILLS PAVONA PAIR, WED 60 YEARS

George Ohi, 84, Retired Farmer, and Wife, Anna, 78, Meet Death Near Home.

OLD COUPE DEMOLISHED

Double Tragedy Brings County Traffic Toll to 29; Crash Witnessed by Linemen.

A fast Erie freight train yesterday afternoon snuffed out the lives of an aged Pavona couple in a grade crossing tragedy which stunned the entire Weller township community.

The victims were George Ohi, 84, retired farmer and former Weller township trustee, and his wife, Anna Elizabeth Ohi, 78. They had been married for more than 60 years, having celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary last October.

The couple was crushed to death about 1:30 p. m. within sight of their home when Mr. Ohi drove his 16-year-old coupe onto the tracks in front of the speeding west-bound train.

The double tragedy bounded Richland county's 1937 traffic deaths to 29.

Witnesses said they waved to the aged man as he drove onto the tracks and it was believed he attempted to stop the car when he realized the danger.

The car, however, was struck head-on and carried 45 feet before the locomotive rolled it off to the side of the tracks. The train stopped near enough to the crossing to prevent further travel.

SOMERSET, Pa.—(AP)—Stacy Gundersman, former state patrolman, convicted of slaying hotelman Frank C. Monaghan of Uniontown, Pa., was freed today on parole by state supreme court justice George W. Moxley.

After listening to a five-minute talk by Defense Counsel John Duggan, Jr., Justice Moxley directed that the former officer be released "immediately" into custody of a probation officer.

Gundersman, jailed for ten months in jail, rose.

"Through all the 15 months of your trial," said the justice, "you showed courage and dignity. There is no malice in your makeup. I have complete confidence you will be a law abiding citizen."

LONDON — (AP) — Lloyd announced today that the United States liner City of Hamburg had wirelessly reported that she was sinking after a collision ten miles east of Terschelling, The Netherlands.

"We are sinking fast ten miles east of Terschelling after collision," the SOS said.

The City of Hamburg is owned by the Baltimore Mail Steamship company and is an 8,424-ton vessel. She was built in 1919.

The distress message was picked up by Lloyd's North Foreland wireless station.

BALTIMORE — (AP) — J. H. Thoroughgood, traffic manager of the Baltimore Mail Line, said today the company's sinking liner City of Hamburg had a passenger list of "not more than four or five and a crew of 75."

ORDINANCE PUT ON SHELF BY VOTE OF 3 TO 2

Heated Discussion Precedes Action on Controversial Pasteurization Law.

BOARD SPLIT ON ISSUE

Health Commissioner Promises Strict Enforcement of Law as Measure's Tabled.

In a heated session that brought an unexpected split in its ranks, the Mansfield board of health tabled an ordinance last night that would have outlawed the sale of raw milk in the city.

By a vote of 3 to 2, the board shelved the controversial measure as it was slated to come up for a third and final reading and apparent passage at the special meeting.

Given 2 Readings.

The ordinance, which provided for complete pasteurization of the city's milk supply effective April 1, 1938, had received the backing of four of the five health board members at the first two readings.

After a one-hour discussion between board members that at times grew heated, Atty. J. H. Gougher moved that the board table the proposed amendment to the city's milk ordinance.

The motion was immediately seconded by Glenn L. Bierly.

Black, Rahr Oppose Motion.

Mayor Earl A. McFarland, on the other hand, called for a vote. Gougher, Bierly and R. E. Adelman, whose term on the board expires Dec. 31, voted for the motion.

The negative votes were cast by Dr. R. R. Black and Dr. K. E. Bahr.

Gougher, in introducing the motion said: "I don't believe it wise to pass the amendment to the ordinance at this time." He did not elaborate on his statement.

Defending the proposal, Dr. Bahr asserted that "I believe we are doing an injustice to the producers by tabling the ordinance. Let them know where we stand."

KILLS CHILDREN

Mother Shoots 4 While They Sleep; 2 Die of Wounds.

WATERLY, Ia.—(AP)—Sheriff Frank Sager said a Bremer county woman shot four of her children in their sleep today, fatally wounding two of them.

He said Mrs. Elias Waters, whom he is holding in the county jail, admitted the shooting and declared the children "wouldn't mind her."

The sheriff said the woman told him she shot her children in the darkness of the small cabin and then went to the cabin of Mrs. Louis Wiehe, nearby, where she fired a shot through the window.

The sheriff said no one in the Wiehe cabin was injured. He said Mrs. Waters explained she had "had some trouble" with Mrs. Wiehe.

STARTS COUNTY ELECTION QUIZ

"Something Haywire" in Meigs, Secretary Kennedy Says.

COLUMBUS — (AP) — James A. Welker, of the secretary of state's office went to Pomeroy today to investigate persistent rumors of alleged irregularities in the Meigs county election machinery.

Secretary of State William J. Kennedy said he might make a personal inquiry after Jan. 1 if Welker's report indicates it is warranted.

"From the persistent rumors I've received something must be haywire down there," Kennedy commented.

Fights Death

Frank B. Kellogg, internationally known diplomat, gravely ill at his home in St. Paul was reported today by his physician to be improved. Kellogg, co-author of the Kellogg-Briand peace pact, was stricken with pneumonia which complicated cerebral thrombosis contracted early in November. Tomorrow will be his 81st birthday.

AGREE TO EARLY VOTE ON RELIEF

House Dems Approve Program To Provide $12,000,000 For Farm Reliefs

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Its members sharply divided between rural and urban views, the house prepared today to start voting on a "permanent" relief program with hopes of having it completed and sent to the senate by Wednesday night.

The program, which Democratic members decided in caucus last night to bring to a vote today without binding themselves to support it, would provide $12,000,000 in state funds to be matched by $3,250,000 local funds and open up several avenues for local subdivisions to raise additional money more easily.

House Republicans decided to let each member vote as he pleased on all bills comprising the program in an attempt to compromise the views of urban and rural members and the administration.

Speaker Frank R. Ullie said he doubted if any of the measures comprising the program could be passed as emergencies to make them immediately effective. Ninety-two votes are required to pass emergency laws.

Should they fail as emergencies, Ullie said the house rules committee would decide whether further attempts should be made to pass them as emergencies.

Some, he thought, could be passed as ordinary measures requiring but 70 votes and still be immediately effective.

In the meantime, the senate threatened to bring out a relief program of its own, embodying Gov. Martin L. Davey's proposal to allocate $7,500,000 in state funds to be matched equally by local funds. The bill was introduced in the senate last night.

Carols To Ring Out as City Joins in Christmas Eve Sing

Christmas carols will echo throughout Mansfield Friday night as the Mansfield Public Parks association enlists singers from the entire city in the first attempt at a city-wide community sing in Central park.

Individual singers and a number of the city's popular musical groups will gather at the park for the Yuletide singing at 8:30 p. m. following a 45-minute concert at five of the city's outlying parks by the local park groups.

Mayor Earl A. McFarland will open the Central park Christmas eve program with an address of greeting at 8:30. Then will follow the community singing of familiar carols by the hundreds of singers expected to join in the concert.

VOTES TODAY ON ROOSEVELT HOUSING BILL

Senate Maps Quick Action on Program to End Special Session Tomorrow.

ARRIVE AT AGREEMENT

Barkley Consents to Docket Anti-Lynching Bill In Move to Speed Balloting.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Republican senators indicated today they would agree to a quick vote on the administration's housing program in order to wind up the unproductive special congressional session.

Senate approval before tonight, leaders said, would make it possible to compose differences between that measure and the house-approved bill in time for adjournment tomorrow.

World Extends Session.

Majority Leader Barkley (D., Ky.) said, however, he would prolong the session until Thursday, if necessary, to get the bill to the White House. None of President Roosevelt's six legislative recommendations has been enacted, although the farm bill is in such shape that an agreement in January is expected.

In order to hasten consideration of the housing bill, Barkley made an agreement which forecast trouble for the regular 1938 session. He consented to make the controversial anti-lynching bill a special order of business for Jan. 6, three days after congress reconvenes.

The senate banking committee worked all day yesterday in order to complete the housing bill, which is expected to be passed today.

Eliminated was the proposal to restore authority for modernization and repair loans up to $2,500. The committee also extended the amortization period on loans for construction of small homes from 20 to 45 years in order to reduce monthly payments.

Place $3,000,000,000 Limit.

A limitation of $3,000,000,000 was placed by the committee on the amount of mortgages which the federal government might insure. The house bill had left this to the discretion of the president.

The fourth change was a provision to forbid government-controlled mortgage associations from entering the individual home loan field. Senators said this would eliminate opposition from private industry.

Senate and house sessions yesterday were devoted to speeches on a wide range of subjects.

Secret Orders Send 9 U. S. Destroyers to San Pedro.

SAN PEDRO, Cal.—(AP)—Nine destroyers lay at anchor off the Pacific fleet base today after a quick run from San Diego under secret orders.

Navy officials replied with "no information" to all inquiries about the sudden transfer that required an emergency roundup of crews ashore for the Christmas holidays.

One suggestion was that it was a preliminary to a destroyer transfer to the Hawaiian Islands. Another was that the navy was testing the speed with which its units can raise anchor and steam away.

Tons of Food Go Into Yule Baskets for City's Needy

Legionnaires Pack Up Ham, Spuds, Fresh Cabbage, Fruit—700 Get Notices Parcels Await Them.

And now comes the last half of the work on the Community Christmas baskets. Raising the money for the first half.

Today 700 notices were in the mail to tell that many families that there would be a Christmas basket for them next Friday at the Salvation Army hall. More than 100 baskets will be delivered by Legionnaires to families that are unable to come for them.

Although not all of the money for the show tickets has been collected, the Three Muster-Cheers were doing a bit of plunging today by spending it before it is collected.

Order Ton of Ham.

A ton of fine, boned smoked ham was ordered; almost four tons of potatoes were being sacked in ten-pound lots today by American Legion men at the Salvation Army; 1,400 pounds of beans have already been put up in two-pound packages; a ton of fresh cabbage was ordered; and there were mountains of canned tomatoes, beans, corn, peaches and all kinds of fruit.

And there will be fresh bread and apples and oranges; a pound box of crackers and Christmas cookies.

A new item in the baskets this year will be something for the Christmas breakfast—a five-pound sack of pancake flour and a can of syrup.

With the exception of 35 families, every name on the list of 700 represents a totally unemployed family in Mansfield.

In addition to the 700 baskets that will be sent out by the Community Christmas Fund, Delano Lodge of the Empire Steel company will send out approximately 300 more to their own people.

JURY SPARES LIFE OF DOG

Cat-Chasing Days Ended at 'Trial' in Town Hall.

NORTH ANDOVER, Mass.—(AP)—Sandy's life was spared today, but his cat-chasing days were ended.

The four-year-old shepherd collie, accused of being a menace to children, smaller dogs, cats, automobiles and flower beds, must be restrained permanently, the town selectmen ruled after a "trial" last night in the town hall.

Sandy stayed home—a prisoner—as his 15-year-old master, Stuart Stillings, other members of the Stillings family and 14 neighbors testified that he was not vicious.

JAPAN MOVES FLEET TO RAID 3 COAST CITIES

China Fears Hangchow, Canton, Tsingtao Objectives of New Japanese Offensive.

REFUGEE BOAT BLOCKED

American and British Subjects Fleeing Central Province Turned Back by Fire.

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Roosevelt today scheduled conferences with Secretary of State Cordell Hull and Dr. C. T. Wang, Chinese ambassador to the United States, presumably to discuss the far eastern situation.

SHANGHAI — (AP)—Japanese troops and warship movements today aroused Chinese fears that three of the nation's great coastal cities would suffer the fate of fallen Nanking.

The Chinese expected Japanese to drive against Hangchow, Chekiang province seaport some 110 miles south and west of Shanghai, Canton, China's southern metropolis, and Tsingtao, Shantung province seaport to the north.

Refugees Blocked.

A party of 300 American and British women and children attempting to flee war threats in Nanking were turned back toward Hankow, one of China's three temporary capitals.

A military boom across the Yangtze river at Matsung, 100 miles above Nanking, obstructed passage of their refugee vessel, the British river steamer, Yousai.

The United States destroyer Pope arrived at Tsingtao, where the cruiser Marblehead was due today to aid in protecting 300 Americans in the threatened port and evacuate them if necessary.

The south China situation was considered the most threatening.

A Japanese attempt to cut the railway between Canton and Kowloon, which lies opposite the British crown colony of Hongkong, was expected momentarily.

Gunfire was audible in Hangchow as three Japanese columns closed in on the city.

Modifies Report.

In Shanghai, Major General Kumakichi Harada, Japanese military attaché, modified some details of his report on the bombing of the United States gunboat Panay by Japanese war planes Dec. 12.

Harada announced that additional investigation showed Panay Cannon were not fired at Japanese troops, as he had said yesterday.

Advices received by the United States flag ship Augusta said Tsingtao was quiet. Chinese, however, expected attack in retaliation for destruction of rich Japanese cotton mills by Chinese troops. Japanese placed the extent of damage at about $57,000,000.

JAPS BANISH SANTA CLAUS

Forbid Usual Festivities for Celebrating Christmas.

TOKYO — (AP)—Santa Claus was banished from Japan today.

Some ministry ordinance forbids the usual festive manner of celebrating Christmas this year.

Japan, although not a Christian nation, had been celebrating the day with growing ardor annually, with department stores featuring Santa Clauses similar to the American variety.

Shopkeepers have announced that instead of the usual decorations their establishments will display Japanese, German and Italian flags.

City council heads for the "last round-up" tonight in a special session called today by Mayor Earl A. McFarland.

The meeting was called to wind up the year's business. The session will be the last one for Councilman Philip Smith and will be the last as council president for Claude M. Hunter who takes over the mayor's office Jan. 1. It will be the last meeting for Mayor McFarland.

Simplicity Marks Rites For O-B Head

Flowers Overflow House As Services Are Held for Frank B. Black.

Services as simple and unpretentious as the life of the man they honored were held this afternoon at Raemelon House for Frank B. Black, founder of the Ohio Brass company, and chairman of the board, who died Sunday afternoon from a heart attack.

Only the great masses of flowers that overflowed into all of the rooms at Raemelon House indicated that it was the funeral services of an important man.

Rev. Peter Young, pastor of First Congregational church, stood at the foot of the stairs in the long hall and read clearly and simply a few words of appreciation for the dead leader, while in the living room there gathered the members of the family and a few close friends.

The bronze casket, covered with flowers, was in the living room. Other friends and officials and employees of the Ohio Brass company were seated in the rooms and hall of the lower part of the house.

Plant Closed.

While the services were being held and as the long procession made its way to Mansfield cemetery where interment was made, the wheels of the big industrial plant which Mr. Black founded, were silent. The factory and offices were closed in tribute to him.

Carrying the casket were six directors of the Ohio Brass company, and two employees of Raemelon House. They were W. A. Springer, J. M. Baskler, George A. Mead, W. T. Jamison, M. W. Mann of Mansfield and Fredrick Atwood of New York City.

Ohio Brass directors and John H. Kullman, manager of Raemelon farm and O. C. Kline, superintendent of the Raemelon dairy farm.

All day yesterday and this morning hundreds of telegrams and messages of condolences arrived at the Ohio Brass office and Raemelon, paying brief but impressive tribute to the man whose business policies and acumen were largely instrumental in building a small business into one of international proportions.

There were messages from many of the industrial and financial leaders of the nation; many

PLEDGES AID

Landon Tells Roosevelt He'll Help on Foreign Affairs.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A. M. Landon gave President Roosevelt today a pledge of "co-operation and support in the difficult foreign situations confronting your administration."

In a telegram made public at the state department, the 1936 Republican standard bearer and former Kansas governor criticized members of congress of both parties who he said "by their actions helped create the impression on foreign nations that they do not trust your administration of foreign affairs."

"They would hamstring your conduct of an extremely delicate foreign situation," Landon wrote.

The president, in reply, said "the generous spirit of your telegram helps me to meet the problems which confront our country in the field of foreign relations during these troublous times."

Council To Sing 'Swan Song' At Special Session Tonight

City council heads for the "last round-up" tonight in a special session called today by Mayor Earl A. McFarland.

The meeting was called to wind up the year's business. The session will be the last one for Councilman Philip Smith and will be the last as council president for Claude M. Hunter who takes over the mayor's office Jan. 1. It will be the last meeting for Mayor McFarland.

While the major portion of the legislation filed with Clerk William J. Beer calls for the transfer of funds and supplemental appropriations to cover departmental expenditures for the balance of the year, one major piece deals with the matter of delinquent assessments owed by the city to the county and by the county to the city.

An ordinance authorizing the settlement of the delinquencies had been prepared by City Solicitor Herbert H. Schettler today.

The plan for payment of the 17-year-old tax debt has been generally accepted by city and county officials and council's finance committee.

It calls for the settlement in full by the county of the money it owes the city, leaving the city with a debt of $3,330.63. The latter will be deducted from the yearly tax settlement due the city in ten annual payments of $333.60.

The tax debt was a special assessment on the cleaning of two streams and on a plat of ground owned by the city for the use of the waterworks department.

COTERIE CLUB MEETS

Mrs. G. B. Garrison, 136 Western avenue, was hostess recently to members of the Coterie club. A program was presented and a gift exchange held. The next meeting will be Dec. 31 with Mrs. Pauline Darling, 380 West Fifth street.

These performers are a piano duo composed of Miss Anne Taborsky and Mrs. Naomi Harding. Mansfield musicians included on the program for the day following Christmas are Mrs. William Hazeltime, soprano, who will be the soloist, and her accompanist, Mrs. A. L. Twitchell.

All arrangements for the elaborate formal affair have been made by Miss Theresa Pfeiffer, chairman of the social committee. Hosts and hostesses for the event are: Mr. and Mrs. William Layton, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Watts, and Miss Margaret Black. Miss Black is accepting reservations for the tea and guest tickets may be secured by members from her.

Since the first early fall meeting the programs of the Music Study club have included a variety of programs with a wide cultural appeal. At the first meeting of the year selections by modern composers were offered by Miss Thelma Reed, Miss Charlet Cellars, Miss Mary Anglin, Mrs. Marie Porterfield, and Mrs. A. L. Twitchell.

Dr. Royal D. Hughes, dean of music at Ohio State university, was guest speaker at one meeting, and at the last meeting the myths and legends of Christmas formed a background for a musical program offered by Mrs. Fred Cahill, Mrs. Joy Herbert, Russell Tither, Miss Jean Larcombe, Miss Jane Weutrick, John Grabler, Miss Bertha Beck and Miss Pauline Pittenger.

ZACHRISENS ENTERTAIN.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Zachrisen, 122 Western avenue, entertained members of the Krazy Nighters club at a Christmas party Saturday night. Winners of bridge prizes were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Nussbaum and Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Koons. Refreshments were served at a long table centered with a Christmas tree. From gifts beneath the tree were red ribbons attached to candy canes marking each place. The next meeting will be Jan. 22 with Mr. and Mrs. Koons.

ENTERTAINS CLUB.

Mrs. Roy Daugherty, Park avenue west road, was hostess last night to members of the Wooden Shoe Euchre club when they held a Christmas exchange and had two tables in play. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. Daugherty, Mrs. Joseph Distl and Mrs. Garmard Kelly. Mrs. Kelly, 25 Poplar street, will be hostess for the next meeting of the club.

RETURN FROM OHIO U.

Other students who have recently returned to Mansfield from Ohio University at Athens are: Miss Dorothy Wagner, Miss Dorothy Klohs, Richard Metcalf, Clifford Scouten, Richard Nye, Dale Koozer, and Robert Banner.

SOCIETY & CLUBS

Two Social Clubs Arrange Formal Christmas Events

Mansfield-Leland Will Be Scene of Festivities Over Holiday.

Two of the leading social organizations of Mansfield are celebrating the Christmas holiday with dances at the Mansfield-Leland hotel. Members of the Our club will be hosts Christmas night for a supper affair, and the University club will sponsor a dance Dec. 28.

Hosts for the dance, which will be held from 8:30 p. m. to 1 a. m. followed by the supper, are: Mr. and Mrs. Allen Bond, chairman; Mr. and Mrs. Burton R. Preston and Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Tracy.

Tom Ford and Lloyd Brown are in charge of the University club's formal dance which will be in progress from 9:30 p. m. to 1:30 a. m. Music will be furnished by Shively-Yates orchestra and there will be a floor show including Ross Lewis and the Montgomery sisters from the Keith's circuit.

This is the club's one guest dance of the year and each member is entitled to bring a non-member of the Tuesday night affair.

CHURCH CLASS MEETS.

Jean Catherine Schuler, 201 North Mulberry street, was hostess to the Golden Rule class of the South Main Street Evangelical church recently. Prizes were awarded to Catherine Smith, Shirley Bowers, and Dorothy Farst. A gift exchange followed the meeting.

Mrs. Howard C. Sword, 74 Sycamore street, and Mrs. D. L. Forrest, 38 Willow street, are entertaining their aunt and sister, Mrs. Charlotte Palmer, Bell, Calif. Mrs. Palmer lived in Mansfield a number of years ago before she went to California.

Miss Marjorie Bolus, a junior at Miami University, Oxford, is spending the holiday vacation at her home, 34 Helen avenue.

Oliver E. Lindsey and family of Cleveland Heights and William Gower and son, Hugh, of Mt. Vernon, were guests over the week-end of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Lindsey, 306 West Third street.

GIRLS' MILITARY TRAINING

Military training will eventually be given to all girls and women in Turkey between ages of 21 and 40, it is announced. Military lessons were recently included in courses for girls at higher schools in Turkey, and the pupils who fall in their tests must take the training again.

Short Coat Worn Any Time Of Year

The short coat has become a year round favorite. No matter how much you may be shivering in the wintry blasts that is the fact. The hip-length coat, left, is of harvest rust lawroside, and it has back fullness and side slit pockets. The model on the right wears a smart two-piece jigger coat in checked wool. The color of her hat which is also suede is Egyptian clay.

PRE-NUPTIAL AFFAIR HONORS MISS THULL

Bridge Party Given by Mrs. Vahar, Miss Osborn, Mrs. Tucker Ends Series of Pre-Christmas Events.

CONTINUING a series of pre-holiday affairs given in honor of Miss Frances Thull who will become the bride of Edward B. Egan New Year's day, Mrs. Alyce Vahar, Miss Bernice Osborn, and Mrs. D. A. Tucker entertained at the Shriver tea room last night with a bridge party.

A long table was effectively decorated in shades of yellow and green with a large centerpiece of a bridal couple holding the interest. Shaggy chrysanthemums and fern amplified by three branch candelabra at either end of the table completed the theme.

Winners of bridge prizes were Mrs. V. E. Jones, Mrs. Louise Reese, Mrs. Joseph R. Hartman, and Miss Thull. A miscellaneous shower was given the bride-to-be and the three hostesses presented her with a wedding gift.

Tonight at the Susie Janis home a dinner-bridge will be given for Miss Thull. Hostesses for the final pre-Christmas affair to be given in her honor are: Mrs. Jones, Miss Mae King and Miss Alice Meeting.

Miss Thull, 19 Hedges street, who is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Thull, and Mr. Egan will be wed at the St. Peter's Catholic church parish house, Mr. Egan, a Cleveland man, is the son of Mrs. Rena Egan, Chicago.

Wipe Refrigerator Dishes. Jars and containers left in the refrigerator should be wiped off with a cloth, nearly every day—to prevent them from leaving dark spots and rings on the kitchen table. The moisture which forms on the jars caused the spots and rings. It increases during the summer months.

Tasty Cases. Green peppers, cut in halves and simmered for ten minutes, make tasty cases for creamed or scalloped mixtures such as macaroni and cheese or scalloped fish. After the peppers have been filled, put them in the oven for five minutes or so to brown the tops.

Red Sox Re-Sign Stover

Popular Mansfield Pilot To Remain With Boston Chain.

By OSCAR RUHL
DEWEY STOVER, Mansfield Red Sox pitcher, who operated the Boston Red Sox chain, has been re-signed to the team for the coming season.

Stover, who returned to the city for a brief visit over the week-end, indicated that he would like to return to Mansfield next year, but as there is some doubt whether Boston will continue to operate the club next year, he undoubtedly will take the first managerial post the Red Sox offer.

ADARIO high school basketball players will have to hold their practice sessions in a barn unless some other arrangements are made for the team. The Bulldogs, who have been practicing recently in the court of the town hall, are being forced to the ground, and the team hasn't had a chance to drill for any of its recent games. The school has no gymnasium.

"Gibby" Groszost doesn't claim to be an alley expert, but he can do a pretty good job of bowling. In a recent match with one of the leading stars, Groszost was presented with a 50-pin handicap, and was not accorded much of a chance to win even with the handicap. He beat the star, 212 to 151.

County league scorers appear to have their difficulties keeping their score books checked at basketball games. In the recent game between Lexington and Union, Richard Rule, the Minute-men's star guard, was credited with 13 points by one scorer, and 17 by another. Which one of the scorers is right remains a secret.

Butler athletic authorities ask for a correction. The athletic teams have the school and have been referred to in stories, but Bulldogs. So Bulldogs it will be hereafter.

It pays to buy good equipment. When Russ Murphy came to Mansfield high 13 years ago, he purchased a set of orange uniforms for his basketball team. The suits are still being used by the reserves. Incidentally, the toys were worn by the 1927 Tiger quintet which reached the state tournament.

ALABAMA will have to score three or more touchdowns to win the Rose Bowl, according to one of the downtown experts. He calls the Bears "first half killers." In only one game this year did the Bears fail to pound out two touchdowns before the intermission, he points out.

Notwithstanding some confusion in the minds of sports experts as to just where we are going, in some respects, it's obvious that football is the most striking development of 1937. Alan Gould writes in a review. Of all the trends noted during the year, the pro gridiron boom attracted the most attention, as well as a bigger share of the sports-page headlines than ever before.

Stratton, Davis Win 'Can O' Food' Bouts

TIM NOLAN'S Quality club wrestling program at the Armory last night packed 'em in to the rafters. It was the second and last "can o' food" show, at which children and ladies were admitted for a can of fruit or vegetables, which will be turned over to the Three Mustard-Cheers to help bring cheer and happiness to Mansfield's needy.

RAMS FACE UNION CLUB

Madison Seeks 2nd Straight League Win on Home Court Tonight.

Coach Al Fendrick's green-clad athletes of Madison high will be offered an opportunity to chalk up their second Richland county basketball league victory tonight when they entertain the cellar Union quintet.

The game is one of the two scheduled this week in the league. In the other tilt, Belleville invades Lexington for a tussle with the Minutemen Thursday night.

If Madison, which last week lost a thriller to Ontario, continues to play the brand of ball it exhibited in that game, it should encounter little trouble from the Union team. The invaders have dropped four straight contests.

Shelby Loses To Willard, Faces Redmen

The Whippets of Shelby high will be seeking their first victory in six starts Wednesday night when they entertain the Bucyrus Rockets in a North Central Ohio basketball conference contest. The Shelby outfit last night dropped its fifth tilt, bowing to the Willard high, 21 to 15, on the Willard court.

The Whippets shot into the lead in the opening minutes, but were unable to survive the sharpshooting of the winners. At halftime the Willard combine was ahead, 7 to 5, as play was resumed in the final stanza, was leading by a 12 to 7 count. Jenny led the individual scoring with 11 points and Lehman topped Shelby with six.

Win Opening Tourney Tilts

Semi-finalists in the Y. M. C. A. Grade school basketball tournament were to be determined on the Y court today.

In the quarter-final games played today, Bowman faced Carpenter and Bushnell tackled West Fifth. Brinkerhoff and Prospect reached the semi-finals yesterday.

WILDCATS, TIGERS WIN

The Wildcats came from behind to down the Bombers, 25 to 22, in one of the games in the Senior colored basketball league at the Friendly House last night. Trailing by a 16 to 15 count, the winners outscored their opponents 10 to 4 to tie the game. In the other tilt, the Tigers smothered the Bulldogs, 24 to 12.

FACES VETS AT CANTON

Mansfield Quint Tackles Same Line-up Which Trimmed 1936-37 Tygers.

Coach Russ Murphy's Tygers of Mansfield high school face a pretty tough job in Canton this week. Although victorious by a 30 to 13 count at Shelby last week, the Tygers' win prospects Wednesday are not encouraging in their annual battle with Canton McKinley.

Practically the same lineup which was used against the Tygers last year will face the Mansfield club again Wednesday, and, if you remember, the Bulldogs whipped them, 33 to 29.

This season's Mansfield edition has not shown the strength of the 1936-37 combination. It may develop into a team just as strong before the season is completed, but it is doubtful whether it is ready to hurdle such a strong foe as Canton at this early date.

McKinley has played only one game this season, but it showed considerable promise as it defeated the strong Akron West quintet, 33 to 29.

The Bulldogs will not only have the advantage of their own floor Wednesday, but also the benefit of height and experience. The Canton club is taller and rangier than any team Mansfield has met this season.

Leaders Meet At Y Tonight

Undisputed possession of first place will be at stake in the Class B Church league tonight when the undefeated First Lutheran and Park Avenue Baptist quintets tangle at the Y. M. C. A. The game is scheduled at 9 p. m.

Tonight's other games follow: First Christian vs. South Main, 7:00; First Presbyterian vs. Mayflower, 7:15; Central M. E. vs. B'nai Jacob, 8:00; First M. E. vs. St. Johns, 8:15.

ACES, TIGERS TRIUMPH

The basketballers of the Ace and Tiger outfits tallied victories in the intermediate league at the Friendly House last night. The Aces defeated the Red Birds, 25 to 22, and the Tigers thumped the Bulldogs, 24 to 12.

Yunker Sports Edge Elks To Keep Record Unmarred

Breres, Westinghouse Cagers Turn In Victories Before Small Crowd at Senior High; Hoff Scores 14 Points.

By CHARLES MARTIN
BASKETBALL representatives of the touted Yunker Sports shot into possession of first place in the torrid City Class A league race last night by coming from behind to edge a stubborn Elks club, 27 to 25, before a small crowd on the Mansfield high hardwood.

Trailing by an 18 to 12 count at the halfway mark, the Yunker quintet rallied to outscore its rivals, 2 to 1, to register the thrilling triumph. The defeat dropped the Elks into a tie for second place with Westinghouse.

While the Sportsmen were being pressed by the erstwhile unbeaten Elks' machine, the Westinghouse Electric combine encountered trouble from a surprising Mack's Pure Oil outfit and was forced into an overtime period before emerging with a 37 to 33 verdict. Ira D. Ling's Canals were idle.

Hoff Troublesome. Although the Yunker squad bottled the Elks' attack in the second half, it was unable to completely throttle the brilliant sharpshooting of Russ Hoff, former Mansfield high star, who established a new season individual scoring record by collecting 14 points.

Tom Farrell, Al Stieker and company started out in an impressive fashion and had built up an 8 to 5 lead before Hoff and his mates started connecting.

The Elks turned on the steam and took a 16 to 8 advantage before Farrell dropped in a pair of goals to cut the lead to a 16 to 12 count at the half.

With six minutes remaining in the final chapter, Harold Hayer dropped in two buckets in quick order to tie the score and shove the Yunker club ahead by a 25-23 margin.

Bob Bogantz sank a side shot and the winners started stalling to protect their four-point margin. Hoff broke loose to tally, but the Elks were unable to overcome the lead. Farrell topped the winners with 11 points.

The Westies found the going tough in the second melee, and were unable to overtake the Pure Oils until they counted on the winning goals in the overtime session.

Gain Early Lead. The Oils, making their debut in the league this week, broke away with a rapid scoring spree in the opening half to pile up a commanding 20 to 11 lead at the half. But the Electricians didn't points wait long after the rest period to knot the score at 22-all.

The Pure Oils again took the lead on George Percy's two goals, but Oswalt tied the score again with a sucker shot. The losers shot back into the lead but again the Westies rallied to knot the score as the final whistle sounded on Raymond Friday's sucker shot.

In the final minute of the overtime Bob Shade and Oswalt registered from the field to give the Westies their winning margin.

Friday led the winners with 13 points.

Stanford Dominates Cage Game As Center Jump Is Eliminated

By ORLO ROBERTSON
NEW YORK—(AP)—Basketball, the game Dr. James Naismith fashioned from a peach basket and a soccer ball 46 years ago, underwent one of its most radical changes this year when the center jump was eliminated.

The rules committee legislated against the jump system of putting the ball into play at the start of each period and after a goal had been scored with the hopes it would do away with some of the advantage held by tall players.

Early results this season have shown that it not only has done that but has speeded up the game until now a team's success may well depend on its reserve power. No longer can five or six men step through a game at top speed, as there is no letup while the ball is being returned to the center circle, as in the past.

As an additional curb on tall players, the rules committee prohibited a player from reaching above the basket and tipping the ball out.

The committee also attempted to clarify the blocking and screening rule which has been interpreted differently in various sections. It ruled that a player is entitled to any unoccupied spot on the floor providing he takes the position three feet away from an opposing player and does not take the position with intentions of blocking a man with or without the ball.

Outstanding in the nationwide competition that saw only two major conference champions retain their titles was the high-powered Stanford quintet led by sensational Hank Luisetti.

Pittsburgh, annually one of the best in the East, again won the Eastern intercollegiate conference crown while Oklahoma A. & M. repeated in the Missouri Valley, Illinois and Minnesota tied for the Big Ten title with Washington and Lee taking the Southern, Kentucky the Southeastern, Pennsylvania the Eastern intercollegiate league, Montana State the Rocky Mountain and Southern Methodist the Southwest.

Kansas, dominant in the Big Six, yielded a half-portion of the circuit's honors to Nebraska. With the famous McPherson Oilers split up, the Denver Safeways exhibited plenty of speed and height to win the National A. A. U. championship.

Stanford's high-scoring quintet dominated basketball circles in 1937. The team beat Southern California, 61-49, in the game during which this picture was taken. Background, in dark uniform, is Hank Luisetti, the Indians' star forward, who has scored 1,131 points in college games and is back for more this season.

CINCINNATI—(AP)—Frank Kink had the answer today to those sour "oompahs" when he played the tuba down at Nippert stadium. A carelessly tossed apple core provided the clue for the University of Cincinnati student bandman with his big bass horn.

The apple core went into his horn at a recent football game. When Kink reached for it, he also brought out a new pair of shoes last season en route to a game with the University of Wisconsin. Kink recalled the off-key bass effects were forthcoming ever since that trip.

the Madison theater Wednesday, with Brian Herne in the title role and Olivia De Havilland as Germaine, the girl with whom he falls in love. The story finds Garrick, considered the greatest actor of his time (1750) ending a long run in London and preparing to begin another in France. Enemies have circulated a false report that he said he would "teach the French to act." Insulted, the French stage folk decide to frame him and make him look ridiculous. The balance of the picture deals with the adventures of the actor when he unexpectedly turns the tables.

Prison Drama.

The story of a gangster, who thinks he can fool the federal government as he has fooled his fellow crooks and even his wife, who learns only after she has borne his child that she has never had her husband's love. Forms the plot of "The Last Gangster," Edward G. Robinson's latest film at the Ohio theater. How he loses his wife, is sent to prison for 10 years, and when he gets out tries to locate his wife is vividly shown in the picture. Others in the cast are Rose Stradner, James Stewart and Lionel Stander.

"West Point of the Air."

The re-issue of "West Point of the Air," is one of the features opening at the Majestic theater today for a three-day run. The film tells the story of the adventures of a father and son who have lived all their life in the air service. Heading the cast are Wallace Berry, Robert Young, Maureen O'Sullivan, Lewis Stone and Rosalind Russell. The second picture is "Quick Money," with Fred Stone, Berton Churchill, Gordon Jones and Dorothy Moore. The story has to do with the heroic one-man fight a small town mayor wages to prevent a group of crooks from looting the town treasury and film-flaming the citizens.

PROFIT SELLING REDUCES EARLY PRICE ADVANCE

Market Analysts Encouraged
By Constructive Sign In Reserve Figures.

NEW YORK (AP)—Stocks tried for another rally in today's market, but the push was half-hearted at the best and opening advances running to a point were reduced or cancelled near the second hour.

Profit selling, following the upturn of the past two sessions, was according to exchange expectations. There was little change in the general news picture.

Issues favored for modest gains included Sears Roebuck, International Harvester, Johns-Manville, Crane Co., Eastman Kodak, Texas Corp., Westinghouse, Du Pont, Douglas Aircraft, Western Union, Bonds were quiet and commodities mixed.

Market analysts saw a constructive sign in the federal reserve figures for the week ended Dec. 15, disclosing not only an upturn of $17,000,000 in commercial loans of reporting member banks in 1937, but also an increase of $154,000,000 in holdings of U. S. government securities. The jump in federal paper buying was one of the largest of the year.

Helpful were late estimates of merchandising sales for the next two weeks. There had been doubts the holiday aggregate would come up to the 1936 period, but trade quarters now are forecasting a slight gain over a year ago.

DIXIE DUGAN—Why Ask Who?

By J. M. McCreary and J. M. McCreary

STEPHEN! STEPHEN! YOUR SISTER'S GONE!!

YEAH?

WHERE ARE YOU I'VE GOT TO FIND HER!

WHO?—YOUR SISTER??

NO! DIXIE!

and I've tried to have my sister because I was jealous of the way she was when you brought her to your sister. She would replace the mother I'd taken. I don't think she should me. I can't face you anymore. This is good-bye. Do not try to find me.

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE—S-New York.

By Harold Gray

OH, MY BABY! YOU'RE STEPPIN' AWAY—GIVE ME MY BABY—PLEASE—

HURRY! HURRY! YOU'RE GONNA BE LATE! YOU GOTTA GO! YOU GOTTA GO! YOU GOTTA GO!

IF ONLY SOMEBODY WOULD COME ALONG TO HELP—BUT NOBODY WITH ANY SENSE WOULD BE OUT ON A NIGHT LIKE THIS. IF THEY COULD, THEY'D GO HOME! ONCE MORE—WELL, MAKE IT THIS TIME—

HAVE I SHOULD RUN AHEAD FOR HELP—BUT I DON'T DARE LEAVE HER A SECOND—I'VE GOT TO KEEP HER HEAVY—SHE'S SO SLEEPY—THAT'S IT. SLEEPY—PULL—

WHY! GET IT! A SLEEPY, BIG HOUSE—AND THERE'S A LIGHT—WELL, BE A SLEEPY NEW—JUST A FEW MORE STEPS TO THE DOOR—

THE NEBBE—Who's Who at Awcemon-Inn.

By Hal Hays

MRS. GRANTLEY, I THOUGHT YOU WERE HALF OWNER OF THIS RESTAURANT

I AM—I PUT UP $5000—GOD, CASH IMMEDIATELY DOWN! AND I GOT PAPERS TO PROVE IT

WHAT GIVE YOU THE IDEA THAT I'M NOT NO PARTNER HERE?

THAT CASHIER—SHE ACTS LIKE SHE OWNS THE PLACE—SHE TOLD ME TO TELL THE KITCHEN TO GET A WAGGLE ON ITSELF—FOODS ARE WAITING TOO LONG FOR THEIR FOOD

AND THAT FELLER, EARL MASS, THAT NICKEL TIPPER, LOOKED TO ME LIKE HE WAS GETTIN' ENOUGH FRIED POTATOES AND SHE SAID—HAVE PATIENCE—WE'RE GETTIN' A NEW COOK

TELL ME SOMETHING, WOULD YOU MAKE ME MAD—WHY TRY TO GET MAD ENOUGH TO FIGHT ME?—WELL, I'VE GOT AN ANT REFININ' IN A LOCKER—GLASS FRITTING HER FACE WITH A RUFF—SHE'S GOT A SNEAKY A CIGARETTE

PAM—The Big Idea!

By A. W. Brewerton

COLONEL CAREY, HAVE YOU ANY ENGAGEMENTS FOR CHRISTMAS EVE?

CHRISTMAS EVE?—WHY, NO, PAMELA

OH, I'M SO GLAD! I WANT TO INVITE YOU TO—TO A LITTLE PARTY I'M PLANNING—IF YOU'D LIKE TO COME!

PARTY?

AT OUR APARTMENT—CLARE'S AND MINE—JUST A VERY INFORMAL GATHERING—ONLY A VERY FEW FRIENDS! WE'LL TRY TO MAKE YOU HAVE A GOOD TIME!

WELL, PAM—THAT IS NICE OF YOU!

JUST YOU AND PAUL AND DAVID GORDON, CLARE AND HER FRIEND BOB HARTLEY AND THAT LITTLE MISS WALTON DOWN THE HALL, HERE! SHE'S JUST COME TO THE CITY AND—HARDLY KNOWS ANYONE!

WHY—WHY—I'M OVERCOME!

SO THAT'S THE BIG PLAN! DON'T IT LIKE HER? SHE KNOWS THE OLD COLONEL MUST BE VERY LONELY BY HIMSELF AT HIS HOTEL AROUND CHRISTMAS TIME!

BOARD TABLES RAW MILK BAN

Measure Calling For Complete
Pasteurization of City
Supply Sidelined.

he said, "It seems to me that we should take the final action on the issue and either turn it down or pass it."
"Are we going to turn around and run?" he asked. "Are we afraid to act on it now?"
"What is that a challenge?" Bieri demanded.

"Well, I'm for taking a definite stand and not letting the thing be thrown to the winds," Dr. Bieri retorted. "The proposal has gained widespread interest within the past 30 days and I think we should take a definite stand and every one of us vote according to his own convictions. Let's vote on the proposal and show where we stand."

Bieri objected strenuously to the measure since it was introduced several months ago. "If it's of such widespread interest, then let us not take an arbitrary stand," he said.
Bieri contended throughout the various board discussions of the question that by approving the measure, was "making arbitrary use of its authority by playing into the hands of a few."

At this point, Adelman entered the discussion.

Says Enforcement Needed.

"What we need is strict enforcement of the present ordinance calling for a grade A raw milk," he said. "If the present ordinance had been enforced as it should have been, we would not have this issue before us tonight," he told board members. "I am not afraid to vote—but I say, leave the market open to raw milk, and let the health department see that we get grade A milk, as provided under the existing law."

Bieri asked members if they thought that there had been an earnest effort to enforce regulations under the present ordinance. "If not," he said, "then what do our inspections mean?"
Dr. Bieri agreed that it was the fault of the health board and the health department that the regulations had not been enforced.

"That's another absurdity," Bieri stated. "We admit that the present ordinance is not effectively enforced and yet we want to go to other extremes. I'm not in favor of any swivel chair regulations. Our progress will be greater if we enforce the present ordinance."
Dr. Roy C. Rehder, public health commissioner and secretary of the board admitted that the regulations under the present ordinance have never been carried out to the letter.

Promises Grade 'A' Milk.

"You gentlemen have agreed that we should have grade 'A' raw milk in Mansfield and that's what you'll get," he promised.
He said that in order to be fair to the producers, the grading period that begins Jan. 1, would be extended until April 1, when all the grade 'A' regulations would be invoked.

"There will be no fun producing grade 'A' raw milk either," he added. Dr. Rehder asserted that it was possible to add another sanitary officer to the staff if necessary to carry out the provisions in the ordinance.

The existing ordinance under which milk is now being distributed in Mansfield calls for grade 'A' raw milk, certified or grade 'A' and 'B' pasteurized. It prohibits the sale of lower grades except during a degrading period with the proper labeling.
Adelman also told the board that various provisions in the ordinance were not being invoked such as the posting of signs in restaurants designating the grade of milk sold and identification numbers and name of retailers delivering on the streets.

Mayor McFarland explained that police were at the disposal of the health department in order to assist in invoking the law if necessary.

At the suggestion of Neil S. Robinson, president of the Richmond County Raw Milk Producers-Distributors' association, who attended the meeting, the health commissioner agreed to hold several meetings with the milk dealers before April 1 to explain regulations set forth in the ordinance.

GETS LIFE TERM 'AS YULE GIFT

Boy, 15, Sentenced for Murder of Gas Station Attendant.

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—While most boys his age were looking forward to Christmas vacations from high school, Nick Megugorc, 15, was held in jail today under life sentence for murder.

Superior Judge Dudley Valentine, who sentenced him yesterday, was reported to be ill "and too badly broken up by the case to talk about it."

The judge presided over domestic relations court for years, disposing of the cases of minors and he took a deep interest in Nick's fate. He said of the verdict against the boy: "Even I was surprised." The boy was convicted of slaying a service station man during a holdup.

SETS HEARING DATES ON ROAD ABANDONMENT

Board of Commissioners Acts to Vacate 12.8 Miles of Township Highways.

The Richland county board of commissioners announced today a schedule of hearing dates on the proposed abandonment of 23 short sections of road, totalling 12.8 miles, in eastern and southern parts of the county.

Located in six townships, the road sections range from a quarter mile to 1.15 miles in length. Most of them have been virtually abandoned for several months but have never been officially declared vacated, commissioners said. Hearings on the proposals will be held at the commissioners' office in the court house.

Hearing Dates.
Hearings involving the following roads will be held Jan. 6:
Wigton road, .70 mile; Rider road, .40 mile; Moffet road, .60 mile; Gladden road, .60 mile; Covert road, .35 mile, all in Monroe township; Ice House road, half mile; Miffitt township, and Pulver road, .40 mile, in Washington and Monroe townships.

Hearings will be held Jan. 7 on the following roads:
Stranb road, 1.15 miles; Taylor road, .90 mile; Kiefer road, .35 mile; Ewers road, .30 mile; Alexander road, .50 mile; Rinehard road, .40 mile, all in Washington township; Hoover road, half mile; Fleming road, .30 mile, both in Jefferson township, and the Mowry road, .60 mile, in Washington and Jefferson townships.

Commissioners will hear protests on Jan. 20 against the vacating of these roads:
Tucker Hastings road, .35 mile; Cole road, .25 mile; Brokaw road, half mile; Freed road, .40 mile, and the Lemley road, one mile, all in Worthington township; Greenwich Town Line East road, one mile, Butler township, and the Kerns road, half mile, in Butler township.

TALK RELIEF

Township Trustees to Take Up Problem Tomorrow Night.

The relief problem is expected to be the major topic of discussion when members of the Township Trustees and Clerks association meet at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday in the common pleas court room at the courthouse.

The meeting, which was postponed last week because of inclement weather, will feature talks by Ralph Lutz, state representative from Richland county, and Atty. Henry Larabee of West Salem.

Trustees and clerks elected at the Nov. 2 election will be guests at the session which will be the final meeting of the group before the new officers begin their terms. C. G. Tagend, of Worthington township, is in charge of arrangements for the meeting.

TANKS SHIPPED AS BOATS
ALBANY, N. Y., Dec. 20.—Sixteen steel tanks, the largest weighing 460,000 pounds and extending 25 feet longer than a railroad flat car, have been floated from Jersey City, N. J., to Whiting, Ind., via the barge canal. The tanks were towed by tug.

There is practically no electricity in Sweden.

Woman Filing Action Bids $1,900 Over Appraised Value.

Bidding $1,960 more than the appraised value, Mrs. Fern Clark, Mansfield, purchased three properties at Springmill and Bowman streets for $7,550 at a sheriff's sale Saturday at the courthouse.

The properties, part of the estate of the late Fred Enlow, the plaintiff's father, were sold by court order on Mrs. Clark's action for partition. She had named her sister, Mrs. Grace Etawiler Reed, as defendant in the petition.

Mrs. Clark, who was represented at the sale by her counsel, Atty. L. H. Beam, lives in one of the two dwellings included in the holdings. The lots were appraised at $5,590.

TAX RATES ON CRAWFORD REAL ESTATE LISTED

Bucyrus Property Owners To Have Reduction; Levies In Gallon, Crestline Higher.

BUCYRUS—New tax rates on real estate in Crawford county, announced Monday by County Auditor C. C. Metzger, will mean a decrease to Bucyrus real estate owners and slight increases in Gallon and Crestline.

Bucyrus city's rate will be reduced from $19 to $18.20, a reduction of eighty cents. Special levies passed for current operating expenses in Gallon and Crestline will bring the Gallon tax rate from $13.50 to $15.40 and Crestline from $17.10 to $17.50. Tiro is reduced from $14.10 to $14; New Washington raised from $11.50 to $12.50 and Chaffield the same at $13.50.

Increases were noted in 29 of the county taxing districts and reductions in 19 and 13 districts will retain the same rates.

Township road improvements are responsible for increases in the school districts to a great extent.

SCHOOL RATES

School districts will have the rates as follows: Auburn township, New Washington school district, $10.70 last year, $9.90 this year; North Auburn school district, $7.70, $7.90; Tiro consolidated, $12.50, $11.80; Tiro village, $14, $14.10; Huron-Crawford district, $8.70, $7.90.

ASKS DIVORCE

ASHLAND—Divorce action has been filed in common pleas court by Mrs. Mary Miller Rupe, daughter of socially and industrially prominent Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Miller, against her husband John W. Rupe of New York city.

Mrs. Rupe charges extreme cruelty and excessive drinking.

She asks that the court restore her maiden name of Mary Miller and that a real estate settlement be effected vesting the defendant of any ownership of property that is legally hers. They have no children and no alimony is sought. They were named Dec. 31, 1936.

Mother, Mix Your Own Cough Remedy. It's Better

Double-quick Relief. Saves Money. Easily Mixed.

No matter what you might spend for medicine, you couldn't get quicker relief from coughs that start from colds than this simple home mixture gives. It takes but a moment to prepare—mixing is so easy a child could do it. And it saves real money.

Make a syrup by stirring 2 cups granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments until dissolved. No cooking is needed.

Then get 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex from any drugstore. Pour this into a pint bottle, and add your syrup. Thus you make a pint of really better cough remedy than you could buy ready-made for four times the money. It never spoils, lasts a family a long time and children love its taste.

It has a remarkable three-fold action. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the inflamed membranes, and helps clear the air passages.

Pinex is a concentrated compound of Norway Pine, famous for its prompt action in coughs and bronchial irritations. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.

MORE ON RELIEF

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Works Progress Administration today reported a weekly increase of 20,128 persons on relief rolls, bringing total registration for relief on Dec. 11 to 1,557,689. The advance was the largest for any week during 1937.

The figure was more than 100,000 over the flow of the year reached on Oct. 2.

TWO FIRMS ASK RATE INCREASE

Postal Telegraph and Western Union to Apply For 15 Per Cent Hike.

The Western Union Telegraph company and the Postal Telegraph company today jointly announced their intentions of applying to the federal communications commission for a 15 per cent increase in rates.

The increase, if granted, would be the first in 30 years of operation, except for the World War period when the utility was under government control, the companies said.

The increase is needed because the "financial resources and credit of the companies are being jeopardized by the decline in revenues brought on by the general slackening of the business of the country," their statement said.

The joint announcement was made in Mansfield by R. G. Clarke, manager of the local office of Western Union, and J. K. Blosser, manager of the Mansfield office of Postal Telegraph.

"The position of the telegraph industry in the public service field is unique in that it does not assess a standing charge but must rely for its income wholly on what is paid for each item of service performed," the statement added.

The said figures published a few days ago indicated that the telegraph companies are operating at either a deficit or on a very slender margin.

This condition, if continued will shortly impair the ability of the companies to continue to render the efficient service on which the public depends," the statement said.

R. K. CALL DIES

Lifelong Resident of County Succumbs at 67.

Robert K. Call, 67, Madison township, a lifelong resident of this vicinity, died unexpectedly Monday afternoon at his home.

Born Oct. 31, 1870, in Mansfield, Mr. Call was employed at the Ohio Brass company for the past 21 years. Before that he was employed as an engineer at the North Main street power house.

He was a member of the Park Avenue Baptist church, Venus Lodge, No. 152, F. & A. M., and was a member of the old drum corps here for a number of years.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Clayton O'Harrow, with whom he made his home, and three grandchildren. The body was removed to the Vagner funeral home where services will be held at 3:30 p. m. Wednesday with Rev. Hayes M. Braker of the Park Avenue Baptist church officiating. Burial will be in the Mansfield cemetery.

THIEVES BREAK INTO 2 PLACES

Valencia Gardens Looted of $30; Barber Shop Ransacked.

Police today were investigating the burglary of two downtown establishments, the fourth and fifth stores to be broken into in the last 48 hours.

At the Valencia Gardens, 34 West Fourth street, $30 in change was taken from the cash drawer, while the Barrett Barber shop, at 36 West Fourth street, was ransacked but nothing was reported missing.

Entrance to both places was gained by breaking open a collar window, police said. Patrolman Donald Mitchell, making the rounds at 4 a. m. today discovered the cellar doors of the establishments standing open and called the proprietors.

UNITES ARE HELD

JEROMESVILLE—Funeral services for Miss Betty Arlene Clark, nine-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Clark of this village, who died at Samaritan hospital in Ashland Sunday at 1:50 p. m. following several days' illness of pneumonia, were held this afternoon at the Fickes funeral home, with Rev. John Ernest Hofer officiating. Burial was made in Jeromesville cemetery.

Survivors include her parents, six brothers, Earl, Paul, Carl, Gallard, and Thomas, and five sisters, Golda, Evelyn, Maxine and Mrs. Mary Kanakomp and Mrs. Vern Savick.

U. S. DEFICIT TO RISE BEYOND $695,000,000

—By Stanley

New Budget Revision Looms Early in January on Basis of Final Reports.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Another budget revision to raise the deficit estimate for this fiscal year beyond the $695,000,000 forecast two months ago by President Roosevelt was foreseen today by some observers.

Mr. Roosevelt hoped last January to obtain a practical balance of the budget in this fiscal year. By April 20 Mr. Roosevelt was convinced practical balance in this fiscal year would not be possible and, he informed congress that the deficit probably would be $418,000,000.

The current fiscal year had not begun at that time and the president asked congress to "join me in a determined effort" to avoid the expected deficiency of $418,000,000. It was evident by early autumn that even that figure had been overly optimistic. In mid-October Mr. Roosevelt submitted a further revision of his budget and raised the net deficit estimate to $695,000,000.

Due in January.

It is that figure which soon may be revised again to higher levels.

The new estimate may be made in the first week of January when the president submits his regular budget message to congress. That message will report finally on the 1937 fiscal year which ended last June 30.

It will revise estimates for the current fiscal year, which began July 1 and which will end June 30, 1938. And it will include entirely new budget estimates for the next fiscal year, which will begin on July 1, next, and continue until June 30, 1939.

Doubt that the deficit can be held within the $695,000,000 estimate to which Mr. Roosevelt currently is committed rests upon three factors:

1. Mr. Roosevelt's failure to force an economy showdown with the special session of congress.

2. Congress' usual willingness to spend and unwillingness to assess new taxes.

3. Possibility that the business recession will reduce federal tax revenue further below levels upon which budget estimates were based.

GALION GIRL RESERVES GIVE CHRISTMAS BASKETS TO NEEDY

here of the marriage of Burnside Light and Gerald Edler, both of Galion, which took place Saturday evening at 8 o'clock at the parsonage of Peace Lutheran church here. The couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Meeker, brother-in-law and sister of the bride. A dinner in honor of the newlyweds was given Sunday at the home of the bride's brother, Preston Light, and wife of Bucyrus.

Mrs. Edler has been employed as waitress at Carmel's restaurant and Mr. Edler is ticket agent at the Galion Bus depot. The couple will make their home at 414 Cherry street.

WILLARD COUPLE Celebrates 63rd Year of Marriage

WILLARD—Mr. and Mrs. George Englehart celebrated their 63rd wedding anniversary at their home on Emerald street here Monday.

Mr. Englehart who is 84, walks to his work as caretaker at the city hall each morning before six o'clock, a distance of eight blocks. For 53 years he was a blacksmith but sold his shop and accepted this less strenuous work about 10 years ago.

His wife, who is 80, does all the work about the home.

SCHOOLS CLOSE

CRESTLINE—Crestline's public schools with its 945 pupils, 33 teachers and four janitors, will go on a ten day vacation during the Christmas holidays beginning Thursday, Dec. 23.

The schools will be closed until Jan. 3, Superintendent R. B. Smith stated today.

Various programs will be presented at the school buildings and elaborate plans will also be carried out in the parochial school.

GETS CITY POST

BUCYRUS—Ross Black, partner in the plumbing firm of Black Bros. for 20 years, was today named by Mayor-elect George T. Dustman as superintendent of the Bucyrus water works. Black will replace Roy Riley, who has been with the department for 18 years.

Dustman also announced the appointments of John Turner and Clem Elbersson as clerks of the water and garbage department. Turner will succeed Miss Lucile Herter and Elbersson will replace Theresa Kaupp. The appointments are effective Jan. 10.

BURIED MONDAY

CONGRESS—Funeral services for Arbelia Mary Slaughter of near here, who died in Wooster hospital Saturday, after a two weeks' illness were held here Monday afternoon with Rev. Joseph Banier officiating.

Survivors include one brother, with whom she made her home. Burial was made in Congress cemetery.

SALESMAN GETS JAIL SENTENCE

'Agent' For Magazine Admits Charge, Fined $75, Given 60-Day Term.

Changing his plea to guilty after Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch had continued his case for further investigation, C. R. Webber, Dover, arraigned in municipal court today on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses was fined $75 and costs and sentenced to 60 days in county jail.

Detective Harry Copper testified that Webber had represented himself as a magazine salesman from New York and that he had been taking subscriptions for a national advertising magazine.

Webber told the court that he was an authorized salesman for the agency and that he had turned the subscriptions and funds over to the firm.

Witnesses from Dunkirk, Tiffin, Lima, and Mansfield identified Webber as the man who had taken their subscriptions and said they had not received the magazine.

D. R. Swarnstead, Cincinnati, district manager of the publishing firm which Webber allegedly mis-represented, testified that he had no knowledge of Webber as a representative of the firm.

TRIAL DELAYED

Cardington Man Accused of Arson to Get New Date.

MT. GILEAD—The trial of Carl Fowble of Cardington, who was indicted by the May grand jury on a charge of arson in connection with the burning of his automobile two years ago, has again been postponed.

The trial was scheduled to open this morning in common pleas court but was postponed because of the absence of his attorneys who were in Columbus in connection with the receivership suit of depositors of the Mt. Gilead National Bank which was heard in the federal court today.

Fowble is charged with conspiring to destroy his car, to collect insurance amounting to $246.

SPEAKS AT FARM MEET

MT. GILEAD — Dr. A. J. DeFossett, a veterinarian connected with the U. S. bureau of animal and plant health, will speak at the next short course meeting for farmers at the extension office here Wednesday night.

Elwood Davis, county agent, said today that DeFossett's address will be devoted to diseases of swine with particular reference to Bang's disease which is prevalent in Morrow county.

BOARD STUDIES FRAUD CHARGE ON NORRIS DAM

TVA Chairman Opposes Purchase of Marble Leases Sold For Small Sums.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn.—(AP)—An assertion by Chairman Arthur E. Morgan of the Tennessee Valley authority that he believed there was intent to "defraud the government" in the purchase of marble leases in the Norris dam reservoir, was studied today by a three-member federal commission.

The leases are held by Senator George J. Berry, D., Tenn., and 29 associates. The TVA is seeking to have them declared worthless. Defense witnesses have asserted that the marble deposits are worth several million dollars.

Morgan, appearing as a surprise witness at the condemnation hearing, testified he had consistently opposed paying the Berry interests for the lands in the TVA reservoir because he felt that an effort was being made "to defraud the government."

"Close to President."

He declared that he had written to the other TVA directors, David E. Lilienthal and H. A. Morgan, in June, 1936, and had told them that one of the chief promoters of that land-purchasing enterprise was "a close adviser to the president," and that the leases had been obtained after construction of Norris dam had become "an active possibility."

Morgan testified that Lilienthal and H. A. Morgan had attempted in his absence to settle with the Berry interests through a conciliator, and that he had protested that such a step was invalid. He read into the record the letter he had written to the other various directors. It contained the following assertions:

"That until construction of Norris dam was started, the Berry interests paid only 'negligible' amounts on the leases, obtained from farmers.

"That TVA and other geologists agreed that the marble deposits had no commercial value.

"That he understood that the 'man close to the president' was asking for between four and five million dollars for the leases.

"Lilienthal and M. A. Morgan later issued a joint statement, which asserted that no one connected with the TVA had any information until several weeks of 'fraud and bad faith,' allegedly involved in efforts of the Berry interests to obtain reparations.

POST DECLINED BY BITTINGER

Tells Davey He Can't Accept Industrial Commission Job.

COLUMBUS — (AP) — J. Freer Bittinger, clerk in Governor Davey's office and former speaker of the house of representatives, today requested the governor to withdraw from the senate rules committee his appointment as a member of the state industrial commission.

The nomination has been pending in the committee since last July and the committee has given no sign of reporting it, either favorably or unfavorably.

Bittinger notified the governor that he found it "impossible to serve on a commission should the senate act favorably on the nomination."

sing that the warning flashes were still operating when witnesses reached the scene, E. M. Miller, Erie track foreman, said.

Lived Near Tracks.

Friends of Mr. Ohl said his sight and hearing were remarkably keen despite his age. They pointed out that he had lived near the railroad for many years and was familiar with the train schedules.

The accident occurred near the pumping station of the Ohio Fuel Gas company on a little used road leading from route 42 to Pavonia. The crossing had been established in recent months after the Erie tracks were relocated at Pavonia, the tracks formerly crossing the same road by an overhead bridge.

Mr. Ohl, a native of Wyandot county, had lived most of his life in the Wellert township community. He retired from farming in 1924 and moved to the residence just east of Pavonia. He was a member of the Paradise U. B. church and sang in the church choir for 35 years.

Mrs. Ohl, born in Ashland in 1859, lived her entire life in Ashland and Richland counties. Like her husband, she too was a member of the Paradise church.

The bodies were removed to the Gilbert funeral home in Ashland. Funeral services have been tentatively set for 2 p. m. Friday at the Paradise church. Rev. Radfield, pastor of the church, will officiate. Burial will be in the Ohl community cemetery, west of Ashland.

Surviving the couple are two sons, Elmer of near Perrysville, and Edward of Los Angeles, Calif.; a daughter, Mrs. Florence Gault, of Ashland; five grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

came from men in humbler walks of life.

Thousands of hothouse blooms filled the living room and overflowed into other rooms. These, too, came from many states and cities: from New York City, Pittsfield, Mass., from Connecticut, New Jersey, Virginia, West Virginia, California, and Indiana.

Roses, Mr. Black's favorite flowers, predominated. One of the largest floral pieces was from Raemelon Riding club. It was a six-foot panel of white carnations, with the words "Riding Club" spelled out in pink rose buds. Ashland Riding club, too, sent its tribute to the man who had been their host on many occasions.

The employees of Raemelon sent a wreath of lilies and roses, from the Central National Bank of Cleveland came a great basket of white mums, and a vase of red roses from the staff of the Saranac Lake, N. Y. Research Laboratory.

A boxwood wreath with a cluster of red roses and calla lilies came from a club of personal friends, and a long spray of yellow mums from the American Guernsey Breeders association.

Throughout the house were baskets and vases of mums, roses, lilies. There were simpler tributes too, from men who have worked for Mr. Black, and these were given places of honor along with the more pretentious tributes.

Among the friends who gathered at the Black home today were many from out of the city and state.

Thousands of hothouse blooms filled the living room and overflowed into other rooms. These, too, came from many states and cities: from New York City, Pittsfield, Mass., from Connecticut, New Jersey, Virginia, West Virginia, California, and Indiana.

Roses, Mr. Black's favorite flowers, predominated. One of the largest floral pieces was from Raemelon Riding club. It was a six-foot panel of white carnations, with the words "Riding Club" spelled out in pink rose buds. Ashland Riding club, too, sent its tribute to the man who had been their host on many occasions.

The employees of Raemelon sent a wreath of lilies and roses, from the Central National Bank of Cleveland came a great basket of white mums, and a vase of red roses from the staff of the Saranac Lake, N. Y. Research Laboratory.

A boxwood wreath with a cluster of red roses and calla lilies came from a club of personal friends, and a long spray of yellow mums from the American Guernsey Breeders association.

Throughout the house were baskets and vases of mums, roses, lilies. There were simpler tributes too, from men who have worked for Mr. Black, and these were given places of honor along with the more pretentious tributes.

Among the friends who gathered at the Black home today were many from out of the city and state.

Frank B. Black—An Appreciation.

PEOPLE of Mansfield need not leave their own city to find the record of a life's achievements which may well be chosen to serve as an example of American opportunities and also to provide inspiration for young men of today who are interested in acquiring the basic principles of a successful life.

The career of Frank B. Black has linked so closely with Mansfield during the past half century that it is difficult to consider one without the other. Yet, now that Mr. Black has passed from earthly life, it is possible to measure more accurately the important place he occupied in this community than could have been done while he was still a participant in the many activities to which he devoted his interest, energy and support.

Friends, associates, employees—people in every walk of life—have paid sincere tributes to Mr. Black; to his courage in the face of difficulties; to his keen understanding of the business in which he was engaged; to the innate modesty which preferred to credit accomplishments to others rather than to himself; to his constant interest in many forms of activity intended for community growth and betterment; for the fineness of his friendship and his unfailing courtesy and kindness toward everyone with whom he came in contact.

It is of these later years of a successful career that present-day Mansfield knows best, yet it is in the story of boyhood ambition, determination and struggle that is found the key that unlocked the door to eventual achievements beyond the ordinary.

There is more than a hint in the circumstance that Frank Black, as a schoolboy, acquired the habit of thrift through being required to earn his own spending money.

There is also to be considered the fact that, after graduation from Mansfield high school, he followed up with business schooling and gained experience before launching a small enterprise of his own.

That this enterprise grew from the small beginning of a $1,000 capitalization in 1888 to the present great Ohio Brass company, with distribution of its products over the entire civilized world, provides another of the success stories common to America—each tracing its origin to the vision of an individual and the soundness of the foundation on which he built.

That decade of fifty years ago, during which the Ohio Brass company made its start, was an important one in the then small city of Mansfield. The Ohio Brass company was organized soon after the coming of W. S. Cappeller to this city to begin publication of The News and this period was also the turning point in the city's history, which has since been marked by steady progress toward its present civic and industrial eminence.

Who can say how large a part the initiative, faith and energy of Frank Black, and his associates of those early days, played in making the Mansfield that now is, and in contributing to the even greater city that it is destined to become?

Lecture on Neutrality.

THESE reproving words come from the Voelkischer Beobachter, official newspaper organ of the Nazi Party in Berlin, regarding the Panay incident:

"If a gunboat is suddenly hit by shells amid wild turmoil, it is regrettable but not astonishing. It would be much stranger if a gunboat sailed amid shells raining from above, without being hit."

"It is ridiculous to expect that a battle should be suddenly interrupted when a neutral ship turns up. Real neutrality consists in the ships one leaves at home."

This lecture is read to us by the government that sent neutral German airmen to Spain, to bomb the women and children of Guernica. Also the government that sent a fleet of German warships to bombard the Spanish seaport of Almeria, slaughtering scores of innocent people, after a German warship happened to be sunk in a place where it had no legitimate business.

Flood Preparedness.

THOUGHTS of the disastrous Ohio and Mississippi river floods last January are aroused by the act of the commanding general of the Fifth Corps area. He has called representatives of the governors of Ohio, Indiana, West Virginia and Kentucky to an immediate flood relief conference. Discussions will center about co-operation of the regular army with state authorities in another such emergency as confronted them a year ago.

It is hoped that there will not be floods of the same magnitude this winter, but there is no way of foreseeing what nature has in store. The recent blizzard which left the city of Buffalo snowbound for several days, and devastating floods on the Pacific coast, have already produced emergencies this winter. Others may follow. They cannot be prevented on short notice. Even partial prevention work calls for years of planning and construction.

Helen Keller Anniversary Year.

FURTHER extension of opportunities for the blind is a part of the purpose for observance of the Helen Keller Tribute Year, which extends through until next March 3, the 50th anniversary of Miss Keller's first meeting with her teacher-liberator, the late Mrs. Anne Sullivan Macy.

Under auspices of the American Foundation for the Blind, with the co-operation of many agencies, a fund of $2,000,000 is being sought to enlarge the work to which Miss Keller has devoted many years.

Despite the handicaps of being blind and deaf, Helen Keller has become one of the outstanding women of the world, setting an example in courage and cheerfulness for others who may be inclined to find fault with their lot.

Children may still expect him to come down the chimney but the most that grown-ups can look for from Santa Claus is a fireside chat over the radio.

The Detroit News rather annoyingly wonders if a Japanese gunboat up around Natchez, Miss., during the Civil war would have been entirely safe.

THE ROAD TO BETHLEHEM

Note of Protest To Emperor, Japanese God

—By CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON—Chinese diplomats in Washington smiled when President Roosevelt called on the Emperor of Japan to apologize for the sinking of the United States gunboat Panay and to pledge himself personally against another such incident.

It was much as if Japan had notified some Occidental country that Tokyo blamed that nation's god for an outrage committed by his worshippers, and had required him to express deep regret, make reparations and promise that nothing of the sort ever would occur again. It was a case, in short of informing the Japanese god that "F. D." no longer had any confidence in the Japanese government, but desired to hear directly from Nippon's real authority—its god.

Or else—so to speak.

NOT APPARENT TO US

The Chinese sense a joke in all this that probably is not fully apparent to western peoples.

They understand Japan's psychology, we Occidentals do not. They comprehend that "F. D." put the Japanese divinity in an embarrassing position.

A government is a big institution, and doubtless hesitates to admit that it has made a mistake. Still, even government is human, and may contend reasonably that it is human occasionally to err. But to ask its god to confess that he has permitted his children to go off at half-cock?

That is going a long way.

WAS F. D. R. AWARE?

Whether or not President Roosevelt, in addressing the mild-mannered Japanese government, was aware that he was mixing Japanese government with Japanese divinity is problematic.

The Chinese, however, saw the point immediately.

They do not kneel at the Japanese shrine, and, to see it thus put amuses them.

They have had some military reverses of late, but they almost forget them in their chuckling over the embarrassing situation that the Japanese find themselves in.

If the emperor, as a god, cannot answer President Roosevelt's message, the Chinese argue, he "loses face" as a god—his government is bigger than he, a god.

If he does answer, apologetically, he has to answer apologetically as a god. In that capacity he "loses face" as a god.

"EMPEROR IS ABOVE"

I talked this matter over with Correspondent Kato, Washington representative of the Japanese Domei (semi-official) news agency.

"Japan," he said, "has a 'responsible government.'"

"That is a government to be addressed through its foreign office and premier, like England's."

"But the Japanese emperor," added Kato, "is above the government. He is independent of diplomacy."

Briefly, a bargain with Japan is not a bargain unless it is made over the emperor's head. Even if it is, he probably will acquiesce. He will have to. His militarists will make him agree, whatever he personally may think about it.

Theoretically the militarists may consider him divine—but not over-practically. In a strictly material sense he can be assassinated as well as any other military recalcitrant.

CHINESE EMBASSY ACTIVE

The original Chinese republican government seemingly is as vigorous diplomatically as before Nanking's fall.

The embassy economizes slightly. "We are a bit pinched," Embassy Secretary Y. F. Liew told me, "but it is not serious."

The embassy does not pinch in keeping up with its social obligations. The Chinese cultivate the National Press club. The Japanese "throw" big parties.

JUST once a day—
For one brief moment before sunset, that thin, pale line of sunshine falls across her bed . . . wavers . . . is gone.

In all the day, in all the dreadful, bed-ridden years, this is all little Ann has known of the shining world which is so warm and gay for other little ones.

Ten years of her life . . . all of them spent within that one, poor bed. Spent alone. Dad's dead . . . mother must work. And so she lies there . . . watching the shadows thin, then darken in a rising tide, against the shabby wall.

ragged quilt. But with that shining moment, before that ray of light which even basement windows cannot bar.

That moment! She is so glad when it comes. A moment before her face has been a small, pale blur against the pillow's gray . . . her hands like wasted claws against the wall. But with that shining moment, before that ray of light which even basement windows cannot bar.

And lies, eyes shut, against a widening pool of red.

Ten years. T. B. One flash of basement sunshine . . . then a laugh that ends in blood.

How far it seems from your own baby's life . . . how different from your own sweet, sunny home.

Your tiny girl, thank God, she'll never come to this! Your chuckling, unburned twinkles.

HOW DO YOU KNOW?

This isn't just one tragic, heart-break tale.

Even as you read . . . stretching out in the comfort of your easy chair . . . healthy body at peace . . . healthy lungs breathing the mingled spice and sweetness of your holiday home.

Even so, hundreds, thousands, millions are lying . . . trapped. Trapped by the cruellest scourge on earth.

Yes, I know. Times are so hard. You're sickness of your own. But think! But listen! Turn off the radio—hear that cough.

Suppose it were YOUR baby, fumbling at that patch of sunshine. YOUR old mother, alone in some tenement room . . . dragging her feeble flesh across the creaking floor?

YOUR father, sobbing in the pillow in the night?

YOUR wife . . . YOUR husband . . . left alone to die?

Drop In Farmers' Income Serious.

THE RECESSION in farmers' purchasing power during the latter half of 1937 has been so great as to make vast difference in the national income over what had been estimated for the year. That alone could explain the fall of security prices. We forget that a third of the American nation still is made up of farmers.

And more than half the nation is dependent wholly on farm income.

Farm income for 1937 probably will not amount to more than eight and one-half billion dollars. In 1936 it was $7,865,000,000.

But, remarks the Alexander Hamilton Institute, "while the eight and one-half billion dollar income for 1937 will be 8.1 per cent larger than the amount received in 1936 and will represent expansion for the fifth consecutive year, it will mean an increase in the farmers' purchasing power of only 1.9 per cent over that of last year, due to the higher level of prices for goods bought by farmers."

Earlier in the year the lowest estimate of farm income for 1937 was nine billion dollars. A half billion dollars evaporated within a few weeks of deflation.

NATIONAL INCOME

National income in the United States for 1937 will show the fifth consecutive year of expansion in spite of the severe falling off since the latter part of October, according to the Alexander Hamilton Institute.

National income now is 78.3 per cent above the depression's low in 1932. And as compared with 1929, peak year of all, this year's national income is lower by only 12 per cent.

Some people will call it inflation. And the Alexander Hamilton Institute does, in these words: "The 1937 income will thus represent an inflationary bubble nearly as large as the one in 1929, which started to burst at the end of that year. This helps explain the development of the recent deflationary movement."

More testimony before the senate committee on interstate commerce, investigating railroads: The Pennsylvania spent $63,000,000 in 1928-'29 buying stock control of the Washab railroad. The Washab went into receivership not long after. The Pennsylvania's equity today is worth $4,000,000. The Pennsylvania also bought up Seaboard Airline stock and that road also went into receivership later.

It likewise bought heavily into Lehigh Valley—and the depreciation on that "investment" also has been millions.

The Van Sweringen were not the only ones—but the Van Sweringens did not have the immense wealth of the Pennsylvania railroad and had to resort to a pyramiding of holding companies, with very little cash back of them.

Timely Editorial

Cash Farm Relief.

If you were a farmer and the government handed you a check for $10,000 out of its farm relief money, no doubt you would be generally relieved. But you would be at the bottom of a considerable list of agriculturists who got more than that in 1936.

The Agricultural Adjustment Administration recently reported the names of 40 farm concerns that were given sums from $10,000 and upwards. The top figure was $57,080.56, given to an association of sugar growers in Puerto Rico.

The payment of agricultural subsidies to big interests frequently has been criticized, but it is in strict accord with the present avowed purpose of farm aid. So long as farmers are rewarded for not depleting their soils, no discrimination between big and little farmers is possible. In fact, the corporation engaged in farming probably would shape its soil conservation program correctly even if not advised or rewarded by the government.

If the aim is to make the farm aid program the helper of the family-size farm, some justification for it will have to be found other than shifting crops to avoid soil depletion.—Detroit News.

How Stamps Become Valuable.

WASHINGTON—Today's lesson is about philately; if that seems strange in these turbulent times, we can only explain that we ran into Philip H. Ward, the philatelist, of Philadelphia, at the White House.

Under his arm he carried $100,000 worth of such stamps as amateurs rave about. He brought them with the idea of inducing the president to issue a Benjamin Franklin memorial stamp next year. Jimmy Roosevelt tried to get him to leave the stamps for the president to examine at his leisure, but no go.

Mr. Ward insisted that if the president saw the stamps he would have to let the stamps out of his possession would cause the insurance to lapse. Mr. Ward, who is plump and jolly but deadly serious about the stamp business, denied the insurance angle was a dodge to force the president to see him and soon Jimmy and everybody else, was believing him, he was so earnest about everything.

THE Upside-Down Stamp.

WHILE he was waiting for the president to see the stamps and him, he showed them to anybody who wanted to see them. He knew the life history of each, how much it cost and how much it is worth now. Their value increases fabulously, at times, like lucky mining stock. Mr. Ward said stamp values didn't flop even during the depression.

He had one of those 1918 air-mail stamps with the plane upside down. Only one sheet of those got out of possession of the post-office department. A Washington bank clerk bought the whole sheet over the counter. Both he and the clerk saw the sheet at the same instant but the bank clerk made the quickest grab and dashed for the door. He got $20,000 for that 50 yard dash, a new high for such short sprints.

In the beginning the stamps were sold at a kindly philatelist to other philatelists or $250 each but now each stamp is worth $4,500.

Mr. Ward had some pre-Civil war stamps with a special history. After the Civil war broke out, Mr. Ward related, the Confederate postmaster general ordered postmasters in each Confederate state to repay the federal government for all stamps sold up to the time the state seceded.

'Boners' Valuable.

THAT seemed pretty square shooting but Mr. Ward said the federal government didn't reciprocate. The government de-monetized all the outstanding issues of stamps so the supplies in Confederate postoffices weren't worth a penny. Even now they are only fairly valuable, they are so plentiful. A three-cent stamp brings only about a dime. Philatelists sometimes amuse themselves by putting one on a letter. He says most postal clerks don't know that such stamps are "de-monetized" and so are worthless in the eyes of the government. The letters go right through.

Mr. Ward also had one pre-Civil war stamp worth $10,000. It also was an upside-downer. The engraver put the flags on wrong and that issue went into philatelic history.

It seems sort of crazy, but the most valuable stamps usually are the ones printed in error, like the upside down plane and flags. It is nice to have a lot of people who can enjoy government blunders.

McIntyre's New York Day by Day

MANHATTAN TRANSFER, save for an elegy in The New Yorker, passed from the scene without a single editorial lament. For years it was a peg upon which to hang a vaudeville, revue or paragraphic jest. It was opened at the same time as the Pennsylvania station, 50 years ago.

In the beginning it was merely a dinky station at which all trains on the Pennsylvania stopped while changing engines to electric cabs. When the electrification of the road was extended to Wilmington the station was no longer needed and was abandoned.

For millions of first-time visitors the cry of "Manhattan Transfer" was a signal they would soon see the metropolis. Thus it always sent pulses pumping. Yet there was nothing whatever to Manhattan Transfer, save this lonely little building.

No one lived there and there was not even a ticket seller. Express men boarded the trains at this point to check baggage about the city. And there was a brick walk upon which many notables stepped for a bit of leg stretching, but it is also gone with the station.

No other living editor holds the all-time record for occupying so many editorial posts as Perriton Maxwell. His list includes six newspapers and seventeen magazine editorships. When asked why he hopped from bough to bough, he replied simply that in every instance it was to better himself financially. Among his jobs were editorships of Cosmopolitan, Hearst's, Judge, Ladies' Arts and Decorations, Police Magazine, Nash's of London, and the Theater Magazine.

Bob Davis, when head man of the Munsey group of magazines, reputedly discovered more new writers than any other editor. Chief of whom was Fannie Hurst, who sold her first short story for $28.

Max Brand, so called King of pulps, was also, as I recall, a discovery of Davis. And, of course, he did much to stimulate O. Henry in his faltering days when he was not so certain he had the story telling gift, later so universally acclaimed. When I was bombarding the Street and Smith magazines and not making the slightest scratch, Herb Roth suggested I train my guns on Davis. I did, and while I never scored a bull's eye, I never received the customary printed rejection. There was always a cheery, better-luck-next-time note. And only a free lance starting for a back-pat knows what such cheeriness mean.

GUARD AGAINST HOLIDAY FIRES, CHIEF WARNS

Seeburger Urges Caution In Christmas Decorations, Trees and New Toys.

In hundreds of residences each year at Christmas people take chances with life and property by carelessness in decorating homes and Christmas trees, Fire Chief Charles J. Seeburger said today in urging Mansfielders to avoid hazards created by the holidays.

"Simple precautions against fire can be taken by everyone to avert tragedy at Christmas time," Seeburger said. "Christmas decorations and new toys are sometimes a menace, and the careless use of matches and smoking materials should be guarded against."

Suggests Safety Measures.

"Decorations should be planned with regard to safety against fire. Only non-inflammable materials should be used. Christmas tree fires, while not extremely common, have marred holiday seasons by resulting in death or injury to children and others," he pointed out.

He said trees should be set up securely so they won't topple over, and should be located several feet from heating or lighting fixtures. He urged that electrical wiring be handled with care to avoid short circuits, and that circuits not be overloaded by the use of too many extensions and appliances at one time.

Lighted candles should not be placed in windows near curtains, Seeburger warned, pointing out that strings of colored electric lights and electric window candles are much safer.

Toys too, can cause their share of loss of life and property damage, according to the chief. He said some must be handled with extreme care, especially those requiring the use of electric current.

"Those requiring alcohol or other dangerous chemicals should be avoided altogether," he added.

STAGES BENEFIT

Delano Lodge Holds Charity Entertainment Tonight.

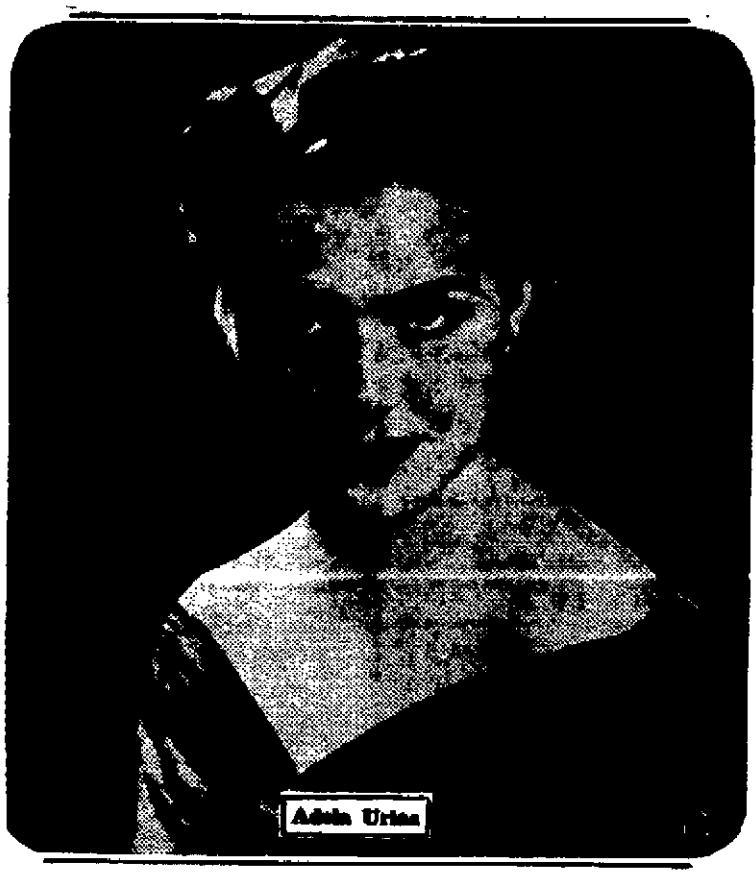

The Delano lodge will sponsor a charity entertainment and dance at 7:30 p. m. today at the lodge hall on North Bowman street, with the proceeds to go to the lodge relief fund, according to R. D. Lumpkin, chairman of the committee on arrangements.

The program will include vocal solos by Mrs. H. Blakely, Mrs. E. S. Smith, Mrs. W. B. Ferguson, Mrs. H. F. Mills and R. B. Hopper. Mrs. Norma Hill will give a reading.

Dancing to music by the Delano orchestra will begin at 9 p. m. Canned goods will be accepted in place of the regular admission fee, committee members said.

Others on the committee in charge of the program are Wesley Bradley, John Johnson, William Hawkins and Otis Hardeman.

REFERENDUM ON WAR HITS SNAG

Foes Believe Opposition By President, Hull Blocked Consideration of Bill.

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Congressional foes of the proposal to require a popular vote before the United States could go to war believe it has been blocked effectively by the opposition of President Roosevelt and Secretary Hull.

Some friends of the proposition conceded there was little likelihood of congress approving it in the near future.

A "people's referendum" has been proposed by a half a dozen senators and by Rep. Ludlow (D-Ind.), who recently obtained

Emanuel; 7, Junior rifle club; 7:30, Westinghouse class; 8:30, senior class.

Tuesday, Dec. 28—10 a. m., Friendly Indian class; 10, Pioneer class; 1:30 p. m., Y-Square club; 2:30, Y-Panthers club; 5, Mansfield Tire class; 7, church B basketball league.

Wednesday, Dec. 29—9 a. m., Friendly Indian class; 10, Pioneer class; 11, Y-Square club; noon, Business men's class; 2, Y-Panthers club; 5, Business men's class; 7, Church A league, and Senior Y rifle club.

Thursday, Dec. 30—9 a. m., Friendly Indian class; 10, Pioneer class; 11, Y-Square club; 1 p. m., recreation period; 2, Y-Panthers club; 5:30, Westinghouse class; 6:30, Frank Lahm Cadets; 9, Senior class.

Friday, Dec. 31—9 a. m., Friendly Indian class; 10, Pioneer class; 11, Y-Square club; noon, Business men's class; 2 p. m., recreation period; 7, Mansfield Tire class; 8, Senior class.

The necessary 218 signatures to force house consideration during the session beginning in January.

The referendum could be required only by amendment of the constitution. A two-thirds vote by congress is necessary for the submission of an amendment to the states.

Chairman Pittman (D-Nev.) of the senate foreign relations committee said he opposed the referendum idea because it might lead to serious complications in drafting foreign policy.

In addition, he said, the principal of referendum would override the democratic theory that the people's will is expressed through their elected representatives in congress.

GIVE PROGRAM

St. Peter's Grade School Pupils Hold Yule Event Tonight.

A Christmas program by children of St. Peter's grade school will be given at 8 p. m. today in the school auditorium.

The program entitled, "Christmas Sketches," will include musical numbers and short plays by the children. The prologue will be given by Marie Meyers, and Robert Kass will present the epilogue.

Accompanists for the program will be Raymond Baum and Paul Adamesku.

Can See Now

Frank Chablas of New Orleans has received about the best Christmas present he'll ever get — a good eye. Frank's sight was failing. He "borrowed" an eye from a 59-year-old man who said he "didn't need" the eye. Now, Frank, shown above, sees again. The old man, John Amos, is just as happy as Frank. The cornea from Amos' eye was grafted on Frank's bad one.

FINED FOR THEFT

Mrs. Theresa Morris, Lincoln Heights, arraigned in municipal court yesterday afternoon on a charge of petit larceny pleaded guilty and was fined $50 and costs.

Mrs. Morris was arrested Saturday night by Patrolman H. G. Palmer and Howard Schuck at the Atlantic and Pacific Tea company store, 15 East Fourth street, after the officers said they had trailed her through several downtown stores.

Try Some of These For Christmas

By IRENE OBERLIN
Home Service Department Ohio Public Service Company.

In case you haven't made your Christmas cookies and candies yet today's recipes include several tested methods for making some different goodies to grace the holiday tables and to be nibbled around the fire on Christmas eve.

Refrigerator Date Pin-Wheels
2 cups brown sugar
1 cup shortening
2 eggs (well beaten)
4 cups all purpose flour
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon baking soda
2 1/4 cups chopped dates
1 cup water
1 cup nutmeats

In using an electric beater, allow the shortening to soften at room temperature, cream the shortening for one minute at high speed. Add to sugar gradually and after all is added scrape the bowl and beat one minute longer. Add the eggs, one at a time and beat for one minute after each addition. Then turn the beater to medium speed and add the sifted dry ingredients, mixing thoroughly. Chill and divide the mixture into two or three parts and roll out 1/4 inch thick into a rectangle. Spread each with the date filling and roll. Chill over night and cut in slices 1/4 inch thick. Bake at 400 for 10 to 12 minutes. Make about five dozen cookies.

Cook the ingredients for date filling about ten minutes over low heat and then add the nuts.

Brazil Nut Dainties
1/2 cup shortening
1/2 cup sugar
2 egg yolks
6 Tbsp ground Brazil nuts
2 Tsp grated lemon rind
1/4 tsp salt
1 cup all purpose flour
1 Tbsp. pineapple juice
1/4 cup thinly sliced Brazil nut meats

Mix all these ingredients in order with the exception of the nuts. After dropping by teaspoon on greased cookiesheet sprinkle with Brazil nuts. Bake at 400° ten to 12 minutes. Makes about 24 cookies.

This recipe for Xmas pudding will keep for as long as three months and is not as expensive as some that call for many ingredients. The Sherry wine is recommended because it imparts a particularly fine flavor and also increases the storing qualities. Some people like to wrap the puddings in wine dampened cloths for aging.

Xmas Plum Pudding.
1 lb. flour
1 lb. sugar (chopped fine)
1 lb. apples (chopped fine)
1 lb. potatoes (grated)
1 lb. carrots (grated)
1 lb. sugar
1 lb. seeded raisins
1 lb. currants
1 lb. citron, chopped fine
1 tsp nutmeg
1/2 cup Sherry wine

Mix and stir the ingredients thoroughly, put in buttered molds, tie cloth over top and steam four hours.

Wine Sauce.
Beat 2 eggs until very light gradually add 1 cup sugar and 2 tablespoons of wine or rum. Fold in one cup whipped cream when ready to serve.

Orange Straws.
5 cups orange peel
2 cups granulated sugar
1/2 cup water

Cut orange peel in narrow strips. Cover with water and bring to the boiling point. Turn off the current and continue the cooking for 15 minutes. Then drain and repeat the process four times. Cook to a thick syrup the sugar and water. Then add the drained orange peel and cook until all the syrup is absorbed by the peel. Roll each strip in granulated sugar and dry on wax paper.

Brazil Nut Cheesecake.
1/2 cup sugar (white)
1/2 cup brown sugar
1/2 cup water
1/2 cup dark corn syrup
pinch of salt
1 Tbsp butter
2 cups chopped Brazil nuts

Cook slowly until sugar water and syrup are dissolved and when a small amount forms a firm ball when tested in water remove from the range and add butter and nut meats. Drop in small spoonful on waxed paper and chill. These may also be covered later with chocolate.

Laundering Note
Although bluing serves as a light bleach it will produce dingy-looking clothes if it is not used carefully. Use the correct amount and mix it thoroughly with water before adding it to clothes.

Mix your spices to save time in cooking. Add four tablespoonsful of cinnamon to two tablespoonsful each of cloves, nutmeg, ginger and mace. Place them in a large salt shaker and keep it handy.

King of Birds Ready For Holiday Table

All ready to go into the oven adequate for serving the family of four to six, was prepared by the day before and all ready in the refrigerator for roasting so that the housewife could watch the gala unwrapping of gifts around the tree

Different Stuffings For Fowl Include Use of Sausage, Rice

By MARTHA LOGAN

Here we have the king of birds all stuffed and trussed, ready to go into the oven. Of course, this preliminary work is all done the day before so that on Christmas morning we may have breakfast with the family, bake the pies, and then take the turkey out of the refrigerator or the cooler all ready for the oven. For roasting, we like best to place the bird on its back on a rack, brush liberally with melted butter and bake in a moderate oven (325° F.) allowing about 20 to 25 minutes per pound of stuffed weight for an eight-pound bird, and 18 to 28 minutes per pound for a ten to sixteen pound bird. Brush with melted butter, remove trussing.

Make steamed puddings several days before they are to be used. Store them in a cold place and when it is time to serve them, reheat them for 30 minutes in a covered mold or a double boiler.

Sausage Rice Stuffing
1/2 pound sausage
2 cups cooked rice
1 cup diced celery
2 tablespoons chopped onion
2 tablespoons fat
1/4 teaspoon sage

Brown the celery and onion in the fat. Combine all ingredients and blend thoroughly. This may be used for meat, fish, or fowl. Makes enough stuffing for 1 chicken or double the recipe for a medium-sized turkey.

Sausage Bread Stuffing.
1/2 cup sausage
1 egg
1/2 cup milk
3/4 cups bread crumbs
1 tablespoon diced onion
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
1/2 cup diced celery

Beat egg slightly, add hot milk. Mix remaining ingredients and pour over them the egg and milk mixture. Makes enough stuffing for 1 chicken or double the recipe for a medium-sized turkey.

Kitchen Hints

For a seasonable relish put three cups of cranberries through a food chopper. Follow these with one orange which has been cut in half and freed of seeds. (The rind and pulp are used, however.) Add one and a half cups of sugar and let the combination chill for several hours. Half a cup of crushed pineapple may be added.

To save time in making starch for a large family wash first make a very stiff starch. Put articles requiring the most starch—such as collars and cuffs—into this. Then dilute the mixture with warm water and starch the rest of the laundry.

Be sure to have plenty of storage or closet space in your "rum-pus" or "whoopie" room. If built-in closets are not available use portable ones for holding games and cards. To save dusting, cover the furniture or game tables when they are not in use.

Always wipe off the clothes line with a damp cloth before hanging up the laundry. This prevents dirt from staining the clothes.

'Fried' Eggs and Bacon.
5 strips bacon
5 eggs
1/4 teaspoon paprika
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon celery salt
1 teaspoon boiling water

Place bacon in a frying pan. Heat slowly and pour off fat as soon as it collects. When the bacon is "dry" and crisp, toss it to one side of the pan or place in a warming oven while the eggs are frying. Place 2 tablespoons of the poured off bacon fat in the frying pan. Add eggs one at a time and sprinkle with seasonings. Cover with lid. After one minute add water and cook slowly until a film forms over the top of the eggs. Cook over a moderate fire to prevent "spluttering" and too brown edges. Remove eggs to platter. Top with bacon.

Manchester Pumpkin Pie.
1 baked pie shell
1 cup cooked pumpkin
1/4 cup brown sugar
1/4 cup brown sugar
2 teaspoons cinnamon
1 teaspoon cloves
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1/4 cup milk
1/4 cup cream
3 egg yolks

3 egg whites, beaten
1/4 cup granulated sugar
Mix pumpkin with flour, salt, brown sugar and spices. Add milk and cream. Cook in double boiler for ten minutes. Stir frequently.

Add yolks and cook five minutes. Cool slightly. Beat whites. Add granulated sugar and beat until creamy. Pour pumpkin mixture into baked pie shell. Cover with egg white combination. Bake for 15 minutes in a slow oven.

Bake souffles in glass pie dishes. They may then be cut into wedge-shaped pieces and served directly from the baking dish. Only fill the dish half full of the uncooked soufflé—to allow for rising.

ROOSEVELT IN PLEA TO CURB HOLIDAY DEATHS

Traffic Accidents Branded as "Common Enemy" in Note By President.

CHICAGO — 4/5 — President Roosevelt has branded traffic accidents as a "common enemy that is striking down our citizens by the thousands" and called upon every man, woman and child to enlist in a nation-wide campaign to reduce the number of Christmas holiday traffic deaths.

In a letter to D. D. Fennell, president of the National Safety council, sponsor of the campaign, the president expressed distress at the seriousness of the traffic problem and urged motorists and pedestrians to exercise the utmost care during the holiday season.

The president's letter: "I am glad to learn that the National Safety council is planning, during the holiday season, to redouble its efforts to promote traffic safety on our streets and highways throughout the country. Appalling at all times, these traffic casualties come with more poignant force when they mar the joy and happiness which should be supreme at Christmas time.

Increase Hazard.

"Unfortunately, the greatly increased activity at this season increases the hazard of men, women and children who through traffic centers in both town and country, and the toll of accidents will mount unless all co-operate in a renewed determination that safety must be the paramount consideration.

"I do hope, therefore, that in response to your appeal drivers and pedestrians everywhere will exercise the utmost care in holiday crowds. We must unite against the common enemy that is striking down our citizens by the thousands."

Fennell said the campaign was started in an effort to prevent traffic deaths mounting again to the last December figure of 4,290—the greatest monthly total in the history of the country.

CHAPTER XII

Philip came in again and walked up the steps to Karen.

"There's a car and chauffeur waiting to take you back," he said.

She was like an outraged child at bay, he thought suddenly. Could you be angry with a child who had been hurt and shamed? Karen had fought back. Other girls would have dissolved their anger in tears or self-pity. For a moment he had been angry enough to shake her. For a moment he had wanted to say, "Look here, I'm doing all I can for you. I'm sending you to Tappan!" But once again he found himself admiring her fighting heart. He said, "No matter how much you dislike me, Karen, it will probably be less embarrassing for you if I see you to the car."

Dislike him! If only she could say, "I love you, Philip. And I'm sorry. Maybe you didn't see Tommy's engagement announced in the paper. I didn't. Maybe you missed it, too, because you've been working hard on your play—the play I want to be in."

But she did not say anything and together they went down the steps. People on the terrace stopped and stared as they went past.

Philip opened the car door and she slid in. He gave the chauffeur her address.

"Good night," he said. "Or is it good-bye?" His quick smile made her heart ache. "If it's good night, then we'll probably meet again. It seems we can't escape each other. But if it's good-bye then I hope you're happy back in Harristown and that you forget you met me—the wrong people."

"Good-bye, Philip," Thelma choked words.

After the car had passed between the high iron gates, he stood for quite some time, his thoughts far away.

Tommy returned alone. Philip did not wait for him to get out of the car before he went to him.

Tommy held up his hand. "Wait a minute. I know what you're going to say. I admit everything. But I thought sure you'd seen the papers. It was splashed all over! I'm in a sweet mess with Marion and her family."

"You've always gotten out of everything," Philip said severely. "Now you straighten out your own mess. It doesn't concern me. But what does concern me is that you left Karen to face all these people. You didn't consider her feelings! I've done favors for you, Tommy. I've gotten you out of more than one jam. This is one time you can't let me down. Whether you make up with your fiancée or not, you've got to take Karen to see Bernie Tannen. You've got to be in New York when he gets back to town!"

"Why don't you take her?"

Philip shook his head. "She wouldn't go with me! She wouldn't accept any favors from me. She hates me! But she mustn't go back to Harristown, and you've got to keep her from going back by calling her tomorrow morning."

"And get in worse with Marion and her family? You don't know her parents! They'll raise a terrible row!"

"That doesn't concern me. That's your affair. You wanted to know Karen. You sent her flowers and went up to the roof almost every night. Now you want to let her down! This is one time you are going to get away with it! She isn't!" Philip said with emphasis, "to go back to Harristown!"

Tommy's lip curled. "You're in love with her! Why don't you admit it?"

Philip stepped back. "If I didn't know you were a spoiled kid with too much money I'd drag you out of the car for a remark like that. You know I'm not in love with her!" Turning away he went back to the house. A few minutes later his green car drove off.

Roxanne was asleep, her blond hair spread fanlike on the white pillow. Karen thought who sang mellow. Poor brave little Roxanne. Karen thought who sang heart-break songs in a cheap night club to people who never knew nor cared about the unhealing wound in her own heart.

At dawn Karen was curled up in a chair by the window. Her anger had died. To go or stay—she wondered. To go defeated or to stand and fight. Last night at Tommy's was a bitter night. But if she stayed and fought she would be defeated in the end anyway. What was triumph as an actress when Philip returned from England with Lilyan Kane? They would probably be married. She had said "Good-bye, Philip. Then let it be good-bye."

Roxanne stirred, opened her eyes, and sat up.

Karen said lifelessly "I tried to be quiet."

"Haven't you slept at all?"

"No. I've been thinking things out—and I'm going back to Harristown. Roxanne. Briefly she told her what had happened last night. Tommy ran after the other girl. Philip picked up the ring. Then I—I said dreadful things to him. And I've lost my chance to meet Mr. Tappan."

Roxanne's alert mind sprang awake instantly.

"And so you're quitting and running away? Running back home? You're going to take the soft way out. Sure, I understand I've been as low as anybody could be. But you're not the quitting kind, Karen. Sometimes a movie horse you stiff in the beginning. But it has a smash ending that's worth waiting to see. You've got to stick around and wait for your 'smash ending'."

"When Philip brings Lilyan Kane back as his wife? Getting up, she walked to the bed. "You see, that's that, Roxanne. No amount of talk will change that. And even if I become as famous as Brenda Bond, it would be an empty fame without Philip. He's more important than anything. What is there to stay for?"

"Not for Philip, because he's a lost cause," Roxanne said in her husky voice. "But for yourself. Don't be a quitter and run back to the small town to a boy you don't love. I'd lose my respect for you if you did. I didn't take the exit, did I? I was going to but you stopped me."

She shook her disheveled blond head. "We've put all our things in one box. Karen, and we're packing together. It's tough going now. I don't expect much but you have a lot coming to you. The reason there are only a few big names on top in the theater is that only a few had the courage to stick it out. Sleep on that a while. When you wake up, you won't want to go back."

If that unknown young woman had not run away from Harristown on that night twenty years ago, she would know her real name, Karen thought. And how different her life might have been! Child of a stage mother, the theater might not have closed its doors rudely in her face. And suddenly remembering Brenda Bond, she could not bear for Philip to see her. "Remember Karen Mallare?" She went back home.

She slept most of the day when she awoke. Roxanne had gone.

Seeing Sam Kasten as she stepped out of the elevator onto the roof that night, she thought, "You don't know how close you came to losing a part of your floor show tonight!" No, she couldn't quit.

Night after night had made her realize the truth of the old saying, "The show must go on!" Roxanne had carried on. One night Lolita had been ill but she had danced.

And that night the show went on. Karen sang. Lolita and Ramon danced. And later, stepping off the elevator into the lobby, Karen saw Tommy. But she saw a different Tommy tonight, without his grin and wisecrack greeting.

"I guess you don't want to see me," he said humbly. "Can't blame you much. But I've got to talk to you. I'm terribly sorry about everything, Karen. May I take you home?"

But first he took her for a drive through Central park.

girl. We've been great friends. I've played around a lot but in the back of my mind I've known she was the girl I wanted to marry. She's honest and true. She hasn't been around much. Her people have a big country place and she's the kind of girl who's spent most of her life around horses. She doesn't give a hang about my money. She has plenty. And she's the only person in the world who ever felt sorry for me. Sorry for me. That's a laugh! With all the money I have!

But she feels sorry for me because I never had any kind of home life. It was just one school after another. He glanced at Karen. "You're not to blame for anything." "Did you make up with her when you told her you weren't serious about me that I was just—just another cog in the wheel?" "I thought I had but her mother arrived this morning. Marion left a note. It's all washed up."

Karen looked ahead. "Leland doesn't play second fiddle to girls out of night clubs, is that it? I've been unlucky for you, Tommy. I'm an unlucky person." (To Be Continued)

'Hatchet Men' Speed Inquiry Into 'Legalized Graft'

SENATE VOTES APPROVAL OF PROBE DEMAND

Resolution Authorizing Quiz In All State Departments Passed 21 to 5.

COLUMBUS — (P) — "Hatchet Men" of the Ohio senate, armed with a powerful mandate, rushed into action today to investigate reports of "legalized graft" in state government departments.

Lieut. Gov. Paul P. Yoder, leader of the senate bloc opposed to Gov. Martin L. Davey's fiscal policies, said he would appoint immediately an investigating committee authorized by the senate last night in a dramatic session.

It was a foregone conclusion that the governor's foes would dominate the inquiry body. Four of the seven members, Yoder said, would be Sens. A. D. Baumbart, Jr. (R-Erie), Vernon E. Metcalf (R-Washington), J. Ralph Seidner (D-Mahoning) and Bernard Donovan (D-Lucas).

"There is something rotten in Denmark," shouted Senator Metcalf, minority floor leader, just before the senate voted 21 to 5 its approval of Seidner's resolution setting up the committee to investigate virtually every state department and agency.

He urged his colleagues to "uncover this legalized graft" in the state government and a denied Democratic charges that the resolution was politically inspired to help Republicans elect a governor in 1938.

After Democratic senators opposed adoption in debate and through parliamentary maneuvering.

"If you can give me one specific example of wrong-doing in the state government, I'll vote for the resolution," but not on rumors, asserted Sen. W. F. Garner (D-Holmes), one of five Democrats who voted negatively.

Garner said the investigation might cost the state $400,000 to $500,000 because of board powers conferred on the committee.

Administrative support has been consistently sought to delay action. A miniature filibuster, resulting finally in adoption of a resolution to memorialize congress for enactment of the Townsend old-age pension plan, was the first maneuver.

Amendments Fail.

Attempts to amend the resolution to defer a vote until today to adjourn the session and to table the resolution were voted down in rapid order by the dominant "hatchet men."

Seventeen Democrats and four Republicans were recorded for adoption. Eight Democrats, most of them Davey supporters, failed to vote.

Speculation arose immediately as to whether the investigation would be immune to legal questions on constitutional grounds since the governor's call for the special session did not request the inquiry, although it asked supplemental appropriations.

Ask $20,000 Fund To Carry On Labor Racketeering Quiz

CLEVELAND — (P) — The county prosecutor's office announced today—as pleas were awaited from four labor leaders accused of obtaining $2,150 in "tribute" from a request a $20,000 investigation fund to rid Cleveland of "labor racketeering."

Chief Assistant Prosecutor Charles J. McNamee said after a conference with Prosecutor Frank T. Cullinan, confined in a (Akron) hospital with accident injuries, that authorities would "go to the bottom of the racketeering situation."

The county board, he added, would be asked to finance "a thorough probe."

The grand jury returned indictments yesterday against Donald A. Campbell, Painters' District Council president; John E. McGee, Laborers' district council president; James C. McDonnell, Campbell's assistant; and Mose Donley, Furniture Finishers' union business agent. All are identified with A. F. of L. affiliates.

Attorney William J. Corrigan, who told McNamee he was to represent the defendants, declined to comment on the charges.

The four are accused of threatening to halt construction work unless demands totaling $4,300 were met.

TRAIN HITS BUS

Vehicle Demolished on Way to Get School Pupils.

COHOS, N. Y. — (AP) — A Delaware and Hudson railroad train crashed into a bus at a railroad crossing today. The bus, driven by Francis Wise, 29, who was en route to pick up school children, was knocked against a nearby house. Wise sustained cuts and bruises.

Insurgents Prepare for 'Last Man' Defense

UP and DOWN THE STREET

Coach J. Russell Murphy should be becoming accustomed to banquets. It has been just one after another for the Mansfield high school football coach this fall, and the distance of the affairs hasn't seemed to make any difference. First there was the Erie, Pa. Strong Vincent dinner. Then came the Madison and Sandusky affairs. He helped his own team celebrate at a dinner staged by The News-Journal last week. He drove to Massillon for a banquet the next night. The list does not include the various club luncheons staged for neighboring teams which he attended, and the end is not yet in sight.

Cheered by reports that her police dog, missing for the past few months, has been seen in Mansfield on two recent occasions, Mrs. J. B. Daubenspeck, Springfield road, today renewed her pledge to pay a $5 reward to anyone helping her locate the dog. The animal, with cream colored fur, was the pet of the Daubenspeck family.

So effectively did Miss Mary Jane Bellows, clerk in the county auditor's office, conceal her Christmas gifts that she was wondering today if she would have to chop her way into a cedar chest to rescue them. After locking her presents in the chest for safe keeping, she lost the key and a search produced no key. The furniture store where the chest was purchased offered a suggestion, however. "Bring it down and we'll see if something can be done about it," they said. But the chest is heavy, so the gifts are still under lock and key.

GET DIPLOMAS

Mansfielders Included in O. S. U. Graduating Class.

Two Mansfield students and eight others from nearby towns will be included in a class of 200 students at Ohio State University to be graduated at winter quarter commencement exercises Wednesday.

Mansfield students who will receive their diplomas are Miss Dorothy McLeod, arts, and Walter Snyder, master of arts. Snyder, former teacher at John Simpson Junior high school, is an assistant professor at the university.

Students from near Mansfield who will receive diplomas are: Alexander R. SEE JENKINS OPPOSE BRICKER

Observers Believe Criticism By Congressman Indication of Candidacy.

COLUMBUS — (P) — Possibility that former Atty. Gen. John W. Bricker might be opposed by Congressman Thomas A. Jenkins (R-Ironton) for the Ohio Republican gubernatorial nomination in 1938 arose today after Jenkins criticized what he termed efforts of "high party leaders to dictate choice of candidates."

Jenkins said in a statement issued at Washington that he had been "prominently mentioned" as a candidate for governor of Ohio or for United States senator and added:

"Already I see unmistakable signs that many of the people in our party who were thrown from power last year again are planning to regain their high positions in the councils of the party."

"I am not advocating a complete house cleaning in the national councils of our party or in state councils. I am simply laying down the simple formula that if our party is to win, we must first win the approval of the rank and file. We must give the people the right to choose."

Jenkins' statement was considered a slap at State Republican Chairman Ed D. Schorr and Frank F. Taggart of Massillon, Republican national committeeman for Ohio.

Schorr defied Republican party tradition by advocating endorsements for candidates and Taggart wired his congratulations after several committees in the seventh district endorsed Clarence Brown of Blanche for congressman and Bricker for governor.

A VISIT TO SANTA CLAUS

STATE PAROLE JURY TO DRAFT ITS REPORT EARLY IN JANUARY

COLUMBUS — (P) — The special grand jury which has been investigating the Ohio parole system since Nov. 22 is expected, informed sources indicated today, to make known by Jan. 12 whether it has uncovered evidence to warrant indictments other than for perjury.

Atty. Gen. Herbert S. Duffy said that no indictments would be handed up before Christmas, but added that the jury soon would begin reviewing the testimony to determine grounds for indictments.

He said further that the Franklin County jury would recess about Jan. 12, and grand jury investigations in other counties would follow.

Should the jury have found grounds for indictment—and investigators for the attorney general say they have uncovered much incriminating evidence—it probably would hand up indictments before its recess, observers feel.

Duffy said that the investigation, as it concerns the state as a whole, may continue for another six months. "Leads" which he has obtained from witnesses here will be followed up in investigations in which will be subpoenaed prisoners from the women's reformatory at Marysville, the men's reformatory at Mansfield, and at the London prison farm.

The grand jury in Columbus may reconvene in February for a lengthy session, for Duffy says he wants to question about 250 more convicts from Ohio penitentiary.

The attorney general said he has decided when to seek trials for two persons indicted for perjury. They are Sherman Chrysler, former constable, of Columbus, and Andrew Marino, Youngstown automobile dealer.

RUSH ITALIAN REGIMENTS TO TERUEL SECTOR

Loyalists Repulse Big Scale Fascist Attacks Striving to Break Trap.

HENDAYE, FRENCH-SPANISH FRONTIER — (AP) — Spanish nationalist leaders rushed thousands of Italian reinforcements to the Teruel front today, hoping to stop a loyalist drive, reports from the front said.

Men who for weeks had been massed on the northeastern front to take part in a nationalist drive or unprecedented proportions, were sent instead to counter-attack against the jubilant loyalists in hope of saving Teruel and the nationalist salient that in months of fighting was driven into the loyalist territory.

Loyalists reported the repulse yesterday of three big scale nationalist counter-attacks and asserted the battle had been a slaughter. They said the nationalist attacking columns lost more than 45 per cent of their effectiveness under machine gun barrage.

Battle in City.

From the east and south the loyalists continued their penetration into Teruel. There was fighting in the southern suburbs. The city football field was a battle ground. The cemetery and the first houses adjoining it on the way into the city proper were reported in government hands. Loyalists asserted the defenders were demoralized the other reports indicated the nationalist garrison was prepared for a last man defense.

Whatever the fate of the city, whose defenses have been strengthened day by day for months, the loyalists seem to believe that by their gains to date they have broken entirely the nationalist drive and saved their communications between Valencia and Barcelona, the great east coast ports.

Fighting yesterday seems to have been the most savage of the battle for Teruel, started by the loyalists in an offensive which was a complete and apparently demoralizing surprise.

IN THAT event the debate might make clear to the country the real nature of the Ludlow plan and a decisive vote against it make

DIES IN CISTERN

Nankin Woman Ended Own Life, Coroner Reports.

ASHLAND — A verdict of "suicide by drowning" was returned today by Coroner George M. Emery of Ashland county in the death of Mrs. Myra Kohler Graham, 63, whose body was found yesterday in a cistern near her home one and a half miles east of Nankin.

Ill over two years, Mrs. Graham was believed to have been despondent over poor health. Mrs. Graham was born in Milton township and was a member of the Nankin Federated church, East circle and Kendig Community club.

Surviving are her husband, A. R. Graham; a son, C. K. of Crivellville; a daughter, Mrs. Homer Dove of Ashland, and three grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at the home at 1:30 p. m. Thursday and at the Nankin Federated church at 2 p. m. with burial in the Nankin cemetery.

The Great Game of Politics

—By FRANK R. KENT

BETTER EVIDENCE that more harm is done in this world by the well-meaning fools than the inherently wicked hardly could be had in the signing by 218 (more than a majority) members of the house of a petition to bring out of committee the so-called Ludlow resolution.

This, as is well known, proposes a constitutional amendment which would provide for approval of the people at a general election before congress can declare war. It does not seem necessary to point out to reasonably intelligent people the utter impracticability of such a plan, or how completely it would paralyze the power of the president to command respect in dealing with any foreign crisis. Nor how futile it would be in keeping us out of war. As Mr. Lippmann so clearly has shown, the plan would in no way diminish the chances of war. On the contrary, it would greatly enhance them by weakening the weapons of diplomacy and making it more difficult for the president to command respect in dealing with an aggressor.

THERE OF COURSE, is no danger of this mushy-minded proposition passing or of any such amendment ever getting into the Constitution. Where the harm comes in is in the false and misleading impression which the demonstration of strength back of the resolution gives of the country and the handicap it is to the president in handling the tense and difficult situations, such as that created by the sinking of the Lusitania, the resolution of the rules, the resolution of the scheduled to come out on the floor of the house for debate and vote sometime in January. By that time, it is hoped that a sufficient number of members who signed the petition will appreciate the fact that the appearance of giving it serious consideration, under existing circumstances, is not helpful to the cause of peace, which they seek to promote, but rather the reverse.

ANOTHER REASON is because administration pressure will be quietly exerted to secure votes against the resolution. Another is because by the time it comes up the absurdity of the idea will have been so completely demonstrated that cautious congressmen may conclude that more votes would be lost in supporting it than in opposing. Finally, by the time a vote is had it ought to be clear that the endorsement of such a resolution by a majority vote would not only be a reflection upon the character of the house but upon its intelligence. The futility as well as the folly of the thing ought to make it easy to dispose of by a decisive vote. It is less sensible than the Townsend plan and a good deal more dangerous.

HOLLYWOOD—Ernest Truex came in from a golf game for lunch, and across the table opined that golf was a great game for worriers.

This five foot three inches of dapper stage fame didn't say he was worried, not in so many words. He just brought out the image in awaiting preview. Moreover, with a new movie contract, he has done an unprecedented thing for him—leased a home for two years, meaning he'll stay, come what may, in Hollywood.

"The last time," he explained, "I think I didn't stay long enough. Made 'Whistling in the Dark' and 'The Warrior's Husband' and skipped within a week, figuring that was time for someone to speak if there were any great demand that I stay."

So the last time—and several times before that—Ernest Truex went back to the stage. At 47, although he's of the stage and scarcely known in pictures—he's a walking encyclopedia of movie history, knew pictures in their rockbottom nickelodeon days.

It was 25 years ago he played the boy lead—at 22—in David Belasco's "Good Little Devil."

"We made another picture," he recalls, "and I thought it was a great idea—but then Jack Pickford came along with the same type of parts I was doing ...

"Back on the stage a while, then I got in with George Fitzmaurice, George Seitz and Ouida Elgere on our own film company. We ran out of money after three reels, so we produced a three-reeler ... More stage, then Vitaphone ... Shirley Mason, Louise Huff, Norma Talmadge ... And then no more pictures until 'Whistling in the Dark' ... I'd always sidestepped or just miss accepted offers ... Once I went to England, stayed for four years ... The stage was always so certain, pictures seemed otherwise. "But this time—well, I want to stay. I like it. If I go over half as well as some of my friends insist I will, I'll be set."

EXTENDING THE COUNT

Your reading of certain suits in an opponent's hand can be extended to give you a count of his other suits. If perchance he leads against no trump from what is clearly a four-carder, you can generally feel pretty sure he has no five-card suit. Should he then disclose a singleton in a second suit, the betting is two to one that in the remaining suits he has four cards each.

The final contract reached on this deal by North and South was 7-No Trumps. South started with 1-Club, North bid 2-Hearts, South 3-Clubs, North 3-Hearts, South 4-No Trumps, North 5-No Trumps and South 7-No Trumps.

Against this contract West led the diamond 7, which was won in the dummy with the 10. Three more rounds of diamonds were cashed and the club suit then tried. West showed out on the second round, so that the declarer's success then depended on the heart suit.

Arthur Butler of Jersey City was the declarer. When he started on the heart suit he cashed the K and then finessed the 10. As the remaining tricks were his, he laid down his hand.

West accused him of making a lucky finesse, but Mr. Butler assured him there was no guess to the hand, as West had led from a four-card diamond suit and held only one club. Reading him therefore for four cards in each of the majors, he played East for only one heart. His deductions proved correct.

Best Means Of Finding Happiness

By VIRGINIA LEE

Happiness comes in life not so much from circumstances, but from the way we adapt ourselves to whatever environment we find ourselves in, and learn to enjoy every little thing.

I have known people to be very unhappy with apparently everything to make them perfectly blissful. I once called upon some old family friends who had grown wealthy, and there in their beautiful home, with servants to wait upon them and loving children and grandchildren around them, they were disputing—about what? The man of the house was vexed because with three or four automobiles, he said there was never one at home for him to use. And he and his wife were sparring because each thought he or she was the greater sufferer in health. My word!

I could not help remembering a story of this wife told years ago when her children were small. She was wheeling the baby in his pram and trying to figure how to make her family income fit the budget. Young, adventurous, and courageous, they were in those days, and so happy! Too bad they had allowed themselves to grow soft and unable to enjoy the luxuries that they had worked and schemed for.

Continuation of "Married Comrades"

AS DICKY spoke the name of the state troopers' captain over the telephone, I heard a choking sound from the veranda where Noel and Mary had been alternating soft murmurings with eloquent silences while Dicky and I read in the living room. Mother Graham had gone to bed with an injunction that she be roused if Philip Veritzen should arrive at the inn. Then the two young married lovers, against whose happiness we were sure Noel's father was conspiring, burst into long time and then one finds he or she doesn't care enough to marry. Your boy friend has learned to love you and depend upon your companionship, and there is no way to keep him from being very much hurt and pretty sore about you wanting to go with another man. However, you are young and certainly shouldn't marry a man you feel you don't love enough. Better break off with your first friend now. Be perfectly frank with him—with both men, I should say, and then, no matter whose feelings are hurt, you can feel you have been fair and done the wisest thing.

MRS. F. G.: Couldn't you leave your very unsatisfactory husband and go to work to earn a living and make a home for the children? You must put your former lover out of your mind, and try to be thankful that you have some dear children to make life worth living.

the living room and raced toward the telephone.

I put up my hand with a gesture of caution, for Dicky was listening intently to whatever the officer was telling him, and they stopped until he hung up the receiver after saying earnestly:

"Thanks a lot, old man. And I'll be mighty grateful for any other information you have. So long."

As he turned toward us, Mary flung herself upon him, gripping his shoulders tightly.

"Was that news of Father Veritzen, Uncle Dicky? Has he started?"

Veritzen O'Way. Dicky's eyes were filled with sympathy as he looked down at the troubled face of his young niece, but he carefully held his voice to flippancy. "Yes, he's on his way, but we should worry. I've had a report on the landing fields, and he can't get nearer here tonight than Mineola. That will mean a good two hours motor journey after he lands, and I'll have a report on that within 10 minutes after his plane comes down. He can't be here until long after bedtime; and you know how punctilious he is. He wouldn't dream of coming out here before morning. He'll go to a hotel in Riverhead or Southampton, and drive out first thing in the morning. So your evening won't be disturbed at all."

"But we'll have to be prisoners all day tomorrow," Mary said dolefully. "With the chance of his discovering that we are parked in Grandpa Spencer's suite."

"Don't cross you bridges till you get up to them. Honey," her uncle advised. "Your respected father-in-law may get seasick and demand to be put down in the middle of a meadow somewhere where he can lie down in the dewy clover, commune with nature and soothe his shattered nerves."

Plenty of Time. Mary gave a short, rueful laugh.

"If he were only coming by train or motor car," she said. "One could wish there could be some slight accident that wouldn't hurt anybody, but would fix things so that he couldn't get here. But you can't wish anything like that about an airplane. An accident means curtains for everybody nine hundred and ninety-nine times out of a thousand."

"Go back to your veranda, dear," I adjured her, "and don't worry any more than you can."

help. Your Uncle Dicky and I will sit up until word comes that your father-in-law's plane has landed safely at Mineola. Then we'll know just what to expect."

"How long will that be?" Noel asked. Dicky did sums on his fingers a mannerism of his—and smiled at his anxious young relatives. "From two and a half to three hours," he said. "If he were on one of the big planes, of course that time would be cut. But three hours at the latest ought to bring us news of the plane's landing at Mineola."

"Well! we have that much grace anyway," Mary said, and when they had gone back to the veranda Dicky and I settled down to an interminable game of chess.

The old clock, which is one of my most prized treasures, chimed the hour thrice before Dicky took his attention away from our game. Then he took his fingers from a knight which I could see would threaten my queen in another move, and spoke a shade uneasily. "I named three hours at the longest," he said in low tones, "but that plane should have reached Mineola before this. I made my estimate longer, so the kids would not begin to worry. But I wonder why we haven't heard anything."
